

Legislature Gets Ready to Adjourn Session Until Fall

Tax Relief for Citizens of Retirement Age Up for Action

MADISON (AP)—The Republican controlled Assembly was apparently ready today to grant about $9 million a year in property tax relief to Wisconsin residents over 65 and to turn back Democratic attempts to expand the GOP plan to about $17 million a year.

In the first two test ballots on the bill, Republicans defeated on party line votes of 50-44 amendments that would have extended relief to renters and liberalized the tax cut formula.

The property tax relief for the elderly is a major item of business before lawmakers recess the session until November.

The recess resolution introduced in the Senate Thursday set Nov. 9 as the date to reconvene and listed three areas of legislation for continued attention in the interim.

Special Study Groups

The studies were assigned to special committees of the Legislative Council. The subjects are highway safety, accelerated conservation land purchases, and the state's financial situation.

A self-imposed law that made the legislators ineligible for expense money kept the lawmakers hustling to wind up the spring meeting that began April 13.

The pace picked up even more when the GOP majorities failed Wednesday to enact a legislative reapportionment bill over the veto of Reynolds.

In action Thursday, the Assembly sustained Reynolds' veto of a bill that would have extended for 10 years leases held by the owners of 86 cottages on Devil's Lake. The vote was 53-30. The veto had been overridden by the Senate earlier.

Double Student Loan Fund

Passed and sent to the Senate was a bill that increases from $5 million to $10 million the amount of state money available for student loans.

And the Assembly completed legislative action on a bill to allow county boards to control access to county trunk highways.

Senate Democrats made another attempt to get action on a pair of appointments by the governor. But the Republican majority kept the nominations of Sens. Richard Zaboriski, D-Milwaukee, and J.W. Barnstable of Appleton in committee. Zaboriski had been named to the Public Service Commission and Barnstable to the State Board of Examiners in Chiropractic. The appointments require Senate confirmation.

Final legislative approval was

Russia Pledges Castro Support If U. S. Attacks

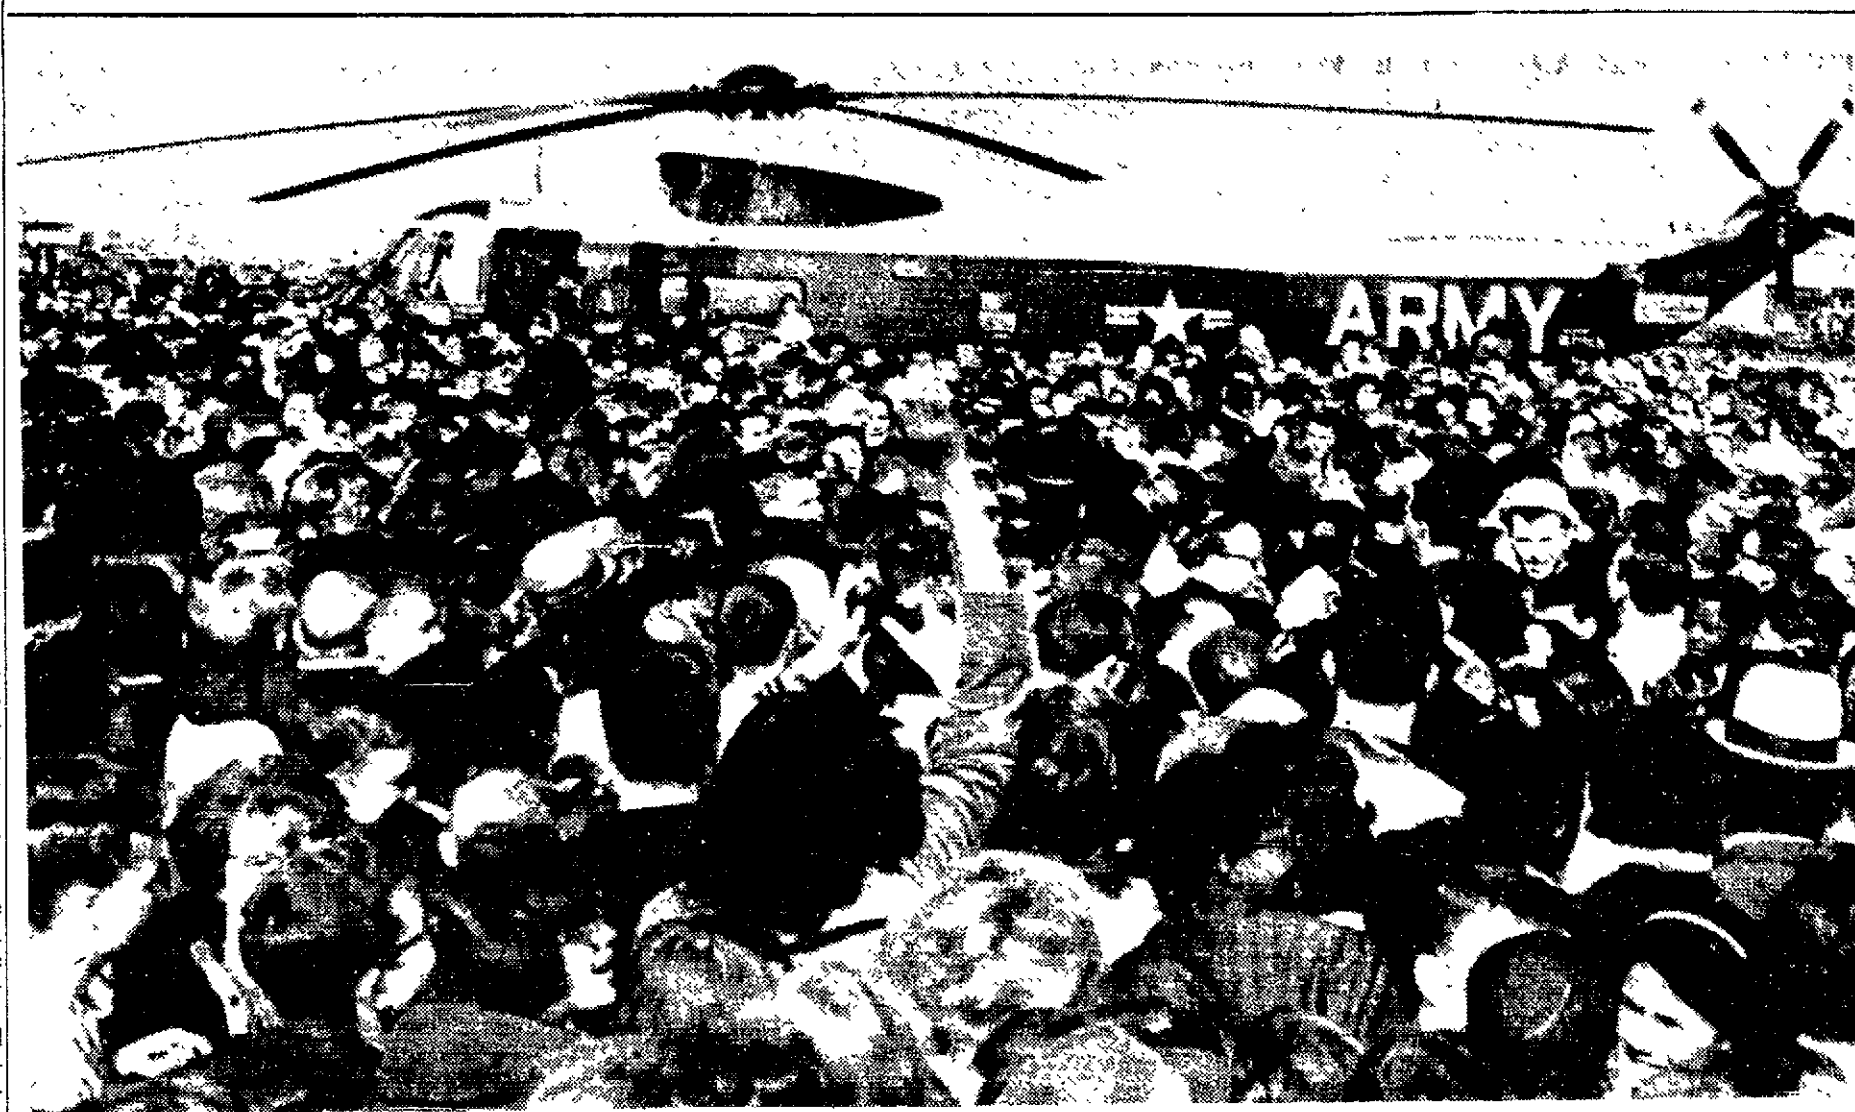

MOSCOW (AP)—Izvestia declared today the Soviet Union will side with Cuba if the controversy about U.S. reconnaissance flights leads to "a treacherous attack" on that island nation.

The U.S. military flights over Cuba were denounced as violations of sovereign rights of an independent state, the U.N. charter and "generally recognized standards of international law."

The Soviet government newspaper declared in an article signed by "Commentator," which means someone in high authority, that Cuba has an inalienable right "to take the necessary measures to put an end to the intrusions."

"Gentlemen, do not try to intimidate us," it said. "If Cuba is subjected to a treacherous attack, the Soviet Union will not put up with it and will side with Cuba. It has declared this before and confirms this now."

Youthful Admirers Imperil Johnsons on 'Poverty' Trip

President Johnson, in South Bend today, finds himself surrounded on all sides by people as he dismounts from the helicopter shown in background. The president and Mrs. Johnson are beginning a four-state 'poverty tour' into the states of Pennsylvania,

Kentucky and West Virginia. At the South Bend landing field the president was grim for a moment when he was lost from security agents, but regained his smile and assurance when he was free of the crush of the crowd. (AP Wirephoto)

Swept Into Turmoil at South Bend

SOUTH BEND Ind. (AP)—President and Mrs. Johnson were mobbed in an all-engulfing crowd of school children as they arrived today at South Bend to begin a four-state "poverty tour."

Neither the President nor the First Lady was injured in the wild melee as well-wishers crushed around them from all sides. However, several of the enthusiastic greeters were carried out of the crowd and given first aid.

After a fleet of three presidential helicopters landed outside a retraining school for unemployed workers, thousands of

Johnson Starts 'Poverty War' In Pennsylvania

school children who had been released from classes swarmed over the landing field.

Both the President and Mrs. Johnson were buffeted about and swept along by the crowd despite the determined efforts of Secret Service agents and police.

After about five minutes, Johnson lost his ready grin and looked grim as security men tried to clear a way through the press of humanity.

Secret Service agents waved for police reinforcements and had difficulty steering the President toward the entrance to the field. The pressure of the crowd insistently swept the presidential party away from its destination.

Resume Shaking Hand

Once Johnson was free of the crush, however, his grin reappeared and he began a more normal hand-shaking tour, greeting well-wishers penned up behind fences and police barricades.

Mrs. Johnson was the first to emerge from the crowd. She was able to reach the exit fairly easily because most of the shrieking youngsters did not recognize her and moved instead toward her husband.

The First Lady said later of the crowd, "There's nothing depressing about them. There's nothing down-hearted about them."

The President and Mrs. Johnson toured the classrooms in the Lulu Cline Vocational Center.

Jury Trial Proposal May Ease Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leadership-sponsored jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill sparked hopes today of cracking the Senate's impasse over the measure.

Sens. Mike Mansfield and Everett M. Dirksen, the Democratic and Republican leaders, prepared to introduce the amendment as the Senate debate entered its 39th day.

Nuclear Plants Considered for Civilian Needs

Conversion Studied To Provide Public Electric Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nuclear explosives plants shut down by President Johnson's cutback in plutonium production may be converted into huge civilian electric power plants.

The Atomic Energy Commission considers the conversion to be technically feasible and has invited utility firms to undertake studies, at their own expense, of the economic and engineering problems involved.

Two reactors soon to be withdrawn from producing plutonium — one at AEC's Hanford, Wash., installation and the other at Savannah River, S.C. — have been offered for commercial power generation.

Record Capacity

An AEC official said the two have the capability of delivering "many hundreds of megawatts" of electric power — that is, many hundreds of millions of watts — if the shift to peaceful use can be carried through.

This would suggest a capacity larger than any of the 13 nuclear plants now producing commercial power.

At Savannah River, one group of 11 Southern utility companies has signed an agreement with AEC to invest $300,000 to $400,000 in studying the feasibility of taking over the heavy-water type reactor scheduled to be shut down about July 1.

7 Men Arrested in Burglary Series

RACINE (AP)—Seven men were held Thursday on burglary charges which police said stemmed from a series of thefts in communities from Waukegan, Ill., to Sheboygan.

Authorities said a warrant had been issued for an eighth member of the group.

Police said bond of $10,000 each had been set for five of the men, Daniel Manske, 35; his brother, Ralph, 35, and Michael Hayes, 28, all of Milwaukee, and Ralph Williams, 35, and Robert Kisten, 35, both of Racine.

Bond was set at $2,000 for Lawrence Gales, 35, of Milwaukee and $1,000 for Randall Nix, 36, of Milwaukee.

Pair Flees From Burning Home

PORTAGE (AP)—A Portage couple escaped through a window as fire roared through their home this morning. The blaze gutted the two-story frame building with a loss estimated unofficially at more than $10,000.

Mrs. Willis Schmidt said she was awakened by the smell of smoke at about 5 a.m. Within a matter of seconds the house burst into flames and she and her husband just had time to smash a window and get out.

Didn't Earn Extra Pay, 3 Judges Told

KENOSHA (AP)—A circuit judge and two Kenosha County judges were told by County Clerk Richard Lindgren Thursday that they are not entitled to supplementary salaries they have been receiving.

They are Circuit Judge Harold Bode and county Judges Urban Zeivers and Harry Carlson, whose basic salaries will not be affected.

Lindgren said he notified the judges of the decision after a conference with Dist. Atty. Joseph B. Molinaro. He said that Molinaro will decide if the judges will have to return the supplementary salaries given them.

He added that a recent Wisconsin Supreme Court decision stated that supplementary salaries paid by counties to judges are not legal expenditures.

Judge Bode was given $2,500 annually, starting last January, as a supplementary salary with Kenosha County paying two-thirds and Walworth County one-third of the amount. It was not determined immediately how much in supplementary salary has been paid to the county judges. Lindgren said they have been given supplementary salaries since 1962.

McNamara Announces 63 Actions To Reduce Military Installations

Declares Savings Will be About $68 Million Yearly

Work Will Start Monday on New Rail Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Railroad management and union negotiators will meet with federal mediators at the Labor Department Monday to start writing a detailed contract which will formally end one of the nation's longest and most complex labor disputes.

Both sides planned a weekend recess after nearly two weeks of intensive White House talks which ended in an agreement late Wednesday, averting a nationwide strike which had been scheduled for a minute after midnight tonight.

In a White House ceremony Thursday, President Johnson congratulated the negotiators and urged both sides to "get back to the railroads and go to work" so both labor and management can prosper.

It will take about a week to draw up the contract, and no difficulties are expected.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today announced 63 new actions closing or reducing military bases, depots and arsenals and consolidating offices. He estimated savings at $68 million a year.

McNamara said slicing away at least eight unneeded facilities, scaling down 14 others, combining separate contract monitoring offices in 29 cities, and other actions would yield savings "without in any way reducing military effectiveness."

These latest moves in a three-year economy drive, now embraced by President Johnson, bring the number of bases ordered closed or reduced to more than 500.

81,600 Jobs Involved
When added to those other moves, the Pentagon said, the 63 new actions will:
Save $551 million a year in operating costs.
Eliminate 81,600 civilian jobs and military assignments. Of these 10,056 will drop away as a result of today's actions.
Release 696,000 acres of real estate for nondefense use.
Make available 61 industrial

Border Clash Avoided by India, China

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—India and Communist China were dangerously close to a clash over Bhutan earlier this month, it was learned today, and both nations reportedly moved troops to jump off positions.

Informed sources said both sides still appear ready to counter—with troops if necessary—any attempt by the other to take advantage of the internal political turmoil in the Himalayan buffer state between northeast India and Tibet.

However, Indian aerial reconnaissance indicates the Chinese have not moved across the Tibet-Bhutan border, informants said, and Indian troops have stood fast.

The mountain passes leading south out of Bhutan are gateways to eastern India, and Indian military men say they are essential to India's defense. For the same reason, Communist China is anxious to control the passes.

Peking's Views May Change

Intelligence Studies Point to 2 Red Chinese Crises in 15 Years

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist China faces at least two major crises of leadership in the next 10 or 15 years as its aging rulers relinquish power to younger men, according to U.S. intelligence studies on onco-secret Chinese military documents.

U.S. officials believe the changes that will come about in these crises may profoundly alter Red China's attitude toward the outside world, including the United States.

Stalemate Policy

Two other points which stand out in the intelligence reports are: 1. Red China under the leadership of Mao Tse-tung is following a strategy of stalemate toward the United States while it concentrates on promoting Red revolutionary movements in underdeveloped countries, particularly in Africa.
2. The Chinese Reds are devoting considerable resources to a program for developing atomic weapons though one of their military leaders estimated in January 1961 that if they got into a big war three to five years from then they would still have to rely on conventional weapons. Meanwhile, the Communist party leaders take the position, according to one of the previously secret documents, that "although the material atomic bomb is important, the spiritual atomic bomb is more important"—apparently a statement of faith in their own Communist world view.

The documents make clear that the Red Chinese leaders believe they cannot be defeated by long-range nuclear weapons—such as U.S. missiles—and if they were invaded they would rely on their vast military manpower. One estimate is that in April 1961 there were supposed to be 200 million armed and organized militiamen.

These conclusions and estimates about Red Chinese policy and strength are set forth in research studies prepared for the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research and based on military papers dealing with both military and political issues which were circulated in Red China in 1961.

In testimony released today, Thomas L. Hughes, State Department intelligence chief, told a House Appropriations subcommittee that "the new materials gave us a look at the dark side of the moon in Communist China."

Analyzed by Experts
Hughes also described the documents—obtained in an undisclosed manner—as "uniquely valuable" to the United States in assessing Chinese Communist strategy and tactics and in shaping U.S. foreign policy.

The Red Chinese secret papers were analyzed by various Chinese language experts. They

Expert Bidding Rewarded

It was interesting to see the Intercollegiate Bridge Championships rewarding expert bidding practice this year. In one hand, for example, the important thing was to play the hand at no trump from the correct side of the table.

North cannot come close to making game at no trump. East would open a spade through South's queen, and West's suit would be set up immediately.

If South is declarer, however, the lead comes up to the queen of spades instead of through the queen. This is not only worth one more trick in spades but also gives South time to develop his other tricks.

North's bid of three spades asks South to bid no trump if he has additional help in the enemy's suit. South has the ideal holding for this purpose and therefore bids three no trump.

Key Play

Having bid the hand properly, South must still make the key play to fulfill the contract. He wins the first trick with the queen of spades and should return a club.

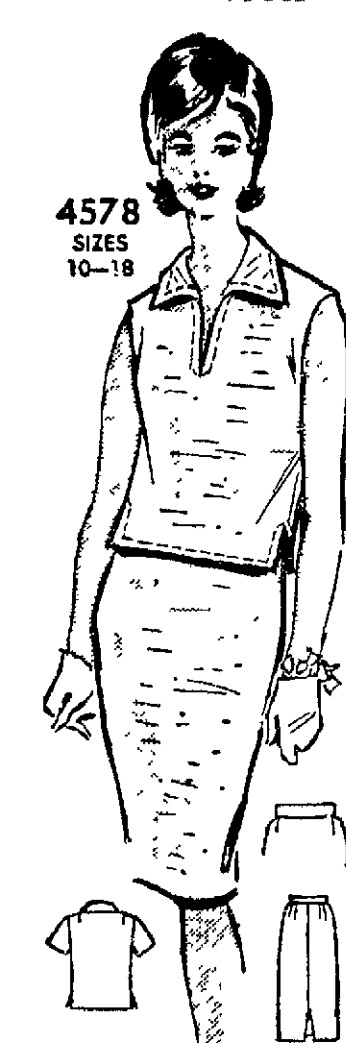

There is no hurry about the diamonds. If they are good for all six tricks, they will still be good a minute or so later. But if the diamonds are good for only five tricks, South will need a club trick.

The club must be developed first. If West takes the ace of clubs and returns the king of spades, South holds off. Declarer takes the next spade and goes after the diamonds.

East gets his queen of diamonds, but he cannot give the lead to his partner. South runs his nine tricks: five diamonds, one club, one heart, and two spades.

South goes down if he develops the diamonds before touching the clubs. East wins with

Preservation by Radiation Next Advance in Processing of Food

BY MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army researchers have talked of how they could put a fried chicken leg—just like mother used to cook—in the back pocket of every soldier in a foxhole.

It isn't as fantastic as it sounds.

Ten years of research on preserving food by radiation is beginning to bear fruit—meat and potatoes, too. But there's more the queen of diamonds and returns a spade to set up West's suit. When clubs are led, West can take the ace and run his spades to defeat the contract.

Daily Question

Answer: Bid one no trump. Your hand is well worth a response, but neither your suits nor the strength of the hand are good enough for a response of two hearts or two clubs.

research to be done before purchase of such items in supermarkets becomes commonplace.

The Food and Drug Administration has approved irradiated bacon and is expected to approve, within the next month, irradiated potatoes for which an application is pending. Applications are pending, too, for irradiated oranges and lemons.

Safe for Humans

Irradiation to preserve food is done by gamma rays or electron beams. It's the kind that doesn't stay on to leave any lingering radio-activity—it kills decaying agents and moves on.

FDA approval means that the irradiated food items are stamped safe for human consumption.

Many Advantages

A farmer could virtually eliminate spoilage by giving his fruit a dose of radiation as soon as it is harvested.

A housewife could buy a ham, chicken or turkey and keep it on the pantry shelf for months.

Commercial fishermen could triple the shelf life of certain fish and other seafoods by giving them a dose of radiation and storing them at one degree above freezing.

Tasty Field Rations

The American soldier anywhere in the world could get food that tastes like the fresh item back home.

The Army has done extensive research at its Natick, Mass., Food Preservation Library to find good field rations for its men.

Will radiation processing replace established methods such as canning and freezing?

No, says Anthony A. Bertsch, head of the government's interdepartmental committee on radiation preservation of food.

"It's like everything else in an expanding economy and a growing population—it's not going to displace anything," Bertsch said in an interview.

FVL Students Hear Shakespeare Message

A young man who has dedicated most of his life to evangelizing the worth of William Shakespeare's writings among the young people presented his dramatic lecture on "Contrasts in Shakespeare" Thursday night as the Fox Valley Lutheran High School's observance of the Bard's 400th birthday.

William Pfuderer, the son of a Prussian army officer and a German actress, has been carrying his Shakespearean message to the Midwest since 1958. Thursday's performance was his 1,000th.

Pfuderer points up the many contrasts in Shakespeare's plays in an examination of the dramatic roles from the 17-year-old Romeo to the 80-year-old King Lear. The program is in two acts. The first carries the audience chronologically, as far as the roles are concerned, from Romeo to Macbeth.

Human Side

The second act points up the human side of Shakespeare's characters by dramatizing such troubles as training a dog to rule an empire. In pointing up the evergreen quality of Shakespeare's ideas he touches on racial problems in "Merchant of Venice" and "Othello." The concert ends with the death scene of Lear and the epilogue to "The Tempest," believed to be Shakespeare's last play.

Perhaps the high point, dramatically, is Pfuderer's recitations of the speeches "To be or not to be" from Hamlet, "Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow and worked with the Bavarian State Theater in Nuremberg.

While in Germany he appeared in three major films, "Judgment at Nuremberg" in which he played the court interpreter who opens the film; "1, 2, 3" in which he played a communist interrogator, and "Town Without Pity" in which he was one of six GI's charged with rape.

In the fall of 1962 he returned to the UW lecture bureau and toured two seasons for it until he switched to the lecture bureau at the University of Kansas this year.

He plans a leave of absence from touring next year during which, he said, he might return to Appleton to study under F. Theodore Cloak at Lawrence College.

Pfuderer makes his home in Milwaukee where he has been active in the community's professional theater. He is engaged and his fiancée will appear in Shakespeare in Central Park in New York this summer.

Lawrence to Have Piano Workshop

"Piano Study as a Creative Experience" will be the topic for a public piano workshop to be held from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Friday, May 1, at the Lawrence College Music-Drama Center. The program, given without charge, is the last in this year's Lawrence Conservatory Public Events series. Co-sponsors are Lawrence College and the National Piano Foundation.

Dr. Robert Pace, composer, concert pianist, lecturer, and teacher, will conduct the workshop. Pace is educational director of the National Piano Foundation, and director of piano instruction at Columbia University Teachers College.

His program will be directed to parents, students, and teachers. It will include films and tape recordings of students and teachers working in laboratory piano study situations.

The three main headings to be considered are "A New Look at Piano Teaching," "Elementary and Advanced Musicianship at the Piano," and "Organization of Piano Instruction for Private Studios and Public Schools."

Particular emphasis will be given throughout the workshop to the aims and techniques of classroom piano teaching. Pace's program is also designed to benefit parents of children who will begin piano study in the near future.

Kristin Webb, Lawrence instructor in music, is in charge of arrangements for the workshop. Persons desiring to attend are asked to register informally by calling the Lawrence Conservatory offices.

A Northside Advancement Association service award was presented Wednesday to Chris Indermuehle, retiring president, by Hanford Baldock, president-elect, at left. At Indermuehle's right are C. M. Riley, elected to complete Indermuehle's unfinished term as director and president of the organization, and Edward Quevillon, vice president. Indermuehle resigned because he accepted a job in Milwaukee.

Outagamie Board Polite: Sets Meeting Back a Week

Courtesy and consideration is not dead on the county board level.

Outagamie County supervisors proved it Thursday when they set their May meeting date back one week to accommodate Van Zeeland Oil Co., which plans to build a gas station, restaurant and motel at the U. S. 41-County Trunk N intersection.

Statutes say legal advertisements must be published in a newspaper for three consecutive weeks before a hearing on a request for rezoning can come before a zoning board. After the zoning board acts, the county board does.

Peter Van Zeeland, Little Chute, through Town of Vandenberg Supv. George Kroes, made a rezoning request to the county board a few days ago, but Kroes didn't get it to the board until Thursday afternoon.

Next Meeting

The next scheduled county board meeting is May 11 (the county board meets the second Tuesday of each month), so even masses, according to Sister Jeanne d'Arc, principal.

Children entering first grade as well as those transferring from other schools must be registered Sunday.

Outagamie Board Polite: Sets Meeting Back a Week

if the legal notice was published today, it would be too late to be acted on at the next regular county board meeting.

So rather than push Van Zeeland's construction program back until after the June board session, the county board did the logical thing — they moved their meeting date back one week. Now the county can publish a legal advertisement saying Van Zeeland has requested a certain piece of property be rezoned from agriculture to industrial, commercial and residential; the zoning board will hold a public hearing, and the county board will take action May 19.

MADISON (AP) — Richard Cudahy of Milwaukee and Neil Woodington of Madison have been named co-chairmen of the 1964 Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in Milwaukee May 16, Louis Hanson, state Democratic party chairman, reported today.

Law Day Plans Set for Schools

Outagamie Units Will Address County Students

Members of the Law Day committee of the Outagamie County Bar Association and the Lawyers Wives of Outagamie County are working with school officials, helping to plan programs and observances of Law Day U. S. A. in the schools throughout the county.

Mrs. Donald Herrling, Law Day chairman for the Lawyers Wives, is working with the Appleton Public Schools. Appearing before a group of school administrators, she stressed the importance of promoting a better understanding of the role of law in the lives of young Americans. "Whereas one day — May 1 — has been set aside to consider the Law Day theme, it actually is one worth remembering all year 'round," Mrs. Herrling said. This year's theme is "Observe the Law: Key to order, justice and freedom."

School Contacts

Mrs. Harry Hoeftel is the law committee's contact at Xavier. Assisting with programs in Kaukauna schools are Mrs. Harry McAndrews and Mrs. James McFadden.

Mrs. Joseph Van Susteren is working with Kimberly High School officials. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lubinski are helping in the Seymour schools; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lorge are assisting in Bear Creek schools; and Mr. and Mrs. Kelland Lathrop are working in the Hortonville system.

Charles Banker heads the Law Day committee's speakers bureau which will provide speakers for many of the school observances.

THE SECRET THAT KEEPS YOUR GRASS GREEN LONGER

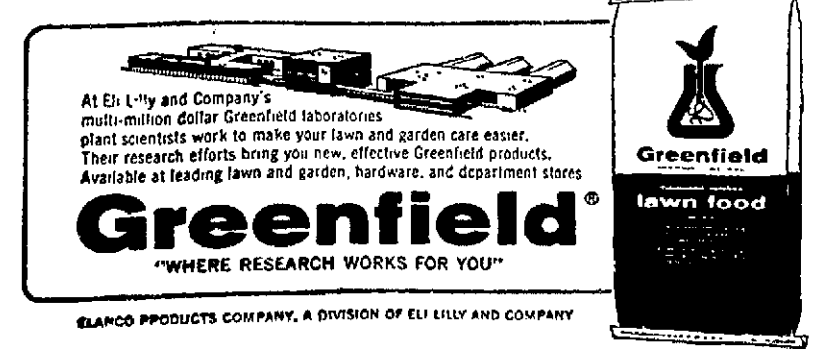

It's the green timed-nitrogen "prill" only in Greenfield Measured-Release Lawn Food

These remarkable green timed-nitrogen prills actually feed your lawn every day for many weeks.

That's because these nitrogen particles have a special coating that protects the nitrogen and releases it slowly and evenly as the grass needs it. They keep your grass green and healthy longer.

You don't have to wait to see results, either. Greenfield Measured Release Lawn Food also contains uncoated nitrogen for a quick greening — as well as phosphorus and potassium in a complete 20-10-5 formula.

Look for the lawn food with the prill, the one that feeds your grass long after you've fertilized. Get it this week.

Judge to Consider Assailant's Waiver

Youth Held Without Charge After Slaying Woman, Wounding Son

OSHKOSH — Juvenile Judge James G. Sarres today is considering whether to waive jurisdiction to county court in a case involving Kenneth Wayne Dobberstein, 17, route 1, Winneconne, in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Russell Schmude, 46, and the wounding of her son, Neil, 13, Wednesday evening.

Dobberstein is being held in the Winnebago County jail as a juvenile delinquent and no charge has been placed against him.

Petition was filed Thursday with Judge Sarres by District Attorney Jack D. Steinhilber asking detention of Dobberstein and a waiver of juvenile court proceedings. The waiver was asked so that Dobberstein can be charged in criminal court with the slaying of Mrs. Schmude, also of route 1, Winneconne.

Judge Sarres has named Attorney William E. Crane, Oshkosh, as guardian ad litem for Dobberstein.

May Ask Hearing

Court officials thought it possible that Judge Sarres may seek a hearing on the matter before waiving his jurisdiction, should he choose to waive jurisdiction.

Mrs. Schmude was fatally wounded Wednesday evening and her son, Neil, wounded by shotgun blasts allegedly fired by Dobberstein, who had hid in the bathroom of the Schmude house until Mrs. Schmude and her son returned from a cancer drive solicitation among the neighbors. Before she died, while en route to Mercy Hospital at Oshkosh, she told her son, other neighbors, who had come to the house, and Winnebago County police that Dobberstein had shot her.

Threw Gun Away

Dobberstein was captured by Winnebago County police at 6:45 a.m. Thursday after an all-night search of the western and northern parts of Winnebago County. He gave himself up without a struggle when spotted in a clump of weeds west of Winneconne and took county police to a spot near Larsen where he had thrown the sawed off shotgun allegedly used in the murder.

The Dobberstein and the Schmude farms are within a quarter mile of each other along County Trunk D and K in the Town of Poygan.

Pictures Loaned In Appleton

Trinity Lutheran Painting Copies to be Available to Public

Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday will open a lending library of reproductions of classical religious paintings.

The framed pictures will be loaned out for a four-week period.

Not all of the 12 pictures are of Biblical events. A picture may be considered religious when it shows an outcry of man's inhumanity to man or what happens when man turns his back upon God and follows his own will, according to church spokesmen. A picture such as Picasso's "Child Holding Dove" shows the qualities of innocence, tenderness and love, and is spiritual in its impact upon the viewer, they said.

Expected Favorites

Favorites are expected to be "The Head of Christ" by Rembrandt and "The Peaceable Kingdom," a primitive by Edward Hicks.

Other pictures available at the library are "Adoration of the Magi" by Sandro Botticelli, "Praying Hands" by Albrecht Durer, "Christ's Head" by Leonardo da Vinci, Brueghel's "Flight of the Holy Family," "Return of the Prodigal Son" by Rembrandt, "Old Woman Praying" by Nicolaes Maes, "Mother and Child" by Pablo Picasso, "Christ and the Fishermen" by Georges Rouault, and "The Spellers" by George Luks.

Additions will be made to the library, which is open to the public.

Works Board Seeks Bids on Concrete Paving

KAUKAUNA — The board of public works is seeking bids on approximately 24,550 square yards of concrete paving, bids to be received by 6:30 p.m. May 4.

Contractors submitting proposals are required to have proof of financial responsibility filed with the city clerk by 4:30 p.m. April 30.

Specifications for the work are on file with the city clerk. Concrete work is scheduled for various parts of the city this summer.

Morgan School Scouts Give Program For Parents Tonight

Morgan School Boy Scout Troop 90 will hold a parents' night program at 7:30 p.m. today in the school.

Awards will be presented to the scouts, and movies and slides will be shown of past camps and hikes and of the Valley Council's Gardner Dam Camp. The parents will plan summer activities and discuss attendance at Gardner Dam Camp.

The troop is sponsored by the Morgan School PTA, and assisted by the Downtown Kiwanis Club. Robert Schindler, PTA president, has been instrumental in developing this scouting program, according to Morgan School Principal Roll and Nock.

The scouts raised money by selling Christmas wreaths, and the troop also has received a memorial gift. The money will be used for the summer camping program.

More Conventional Schedule Planned for Xavier Girls

Boys Will Continue College Type Class System During Term in Fall

Xavier High School's new college-type class schedule is receiving nationwide attention — but the Xavier girls' department will return to a more conventional schedule next fall.

The revolutionary new schedule was adopted at Xavier last fall in somewhat different versions by the boys' and girls' departments. The girls' department revised the schedule in October and will change it completely next fall, while the boys' department will continue using the new schedule.

A speech on the new schedule by Brother Peter, Xavier director and boys' department principal, at the National Catholic Education Association earlier this month was drawn from more than 80 requests from schools across the nation for additional information on it.

70-Minute Periods

The schedule as initiated by the boys' department includes 70-minute class periods during a five and one-half day week, with Saturday morning classes. Students meet teachers three days a week in non-laboratory courses and four days a week in lab courses. During free periods boys are permitted to use the library, study hall or laboratories or to leave the building.

The girls' department version of the schedule also included 70-minute classes meeting three or four days a week, but on alternating days students had "enrichment periods" with the same teachers. The girls were not permitted to leave the building during the school day.

In October the girls' department will return to a more conventional schedule.

Neenah Girl in State Spelling Contest Finals

NEENAH — An exciting adventure which began in the classroom of St. Gabriel School, March 19, continued through an all-school contest, to Neenah's first city-wide spelling bee, April 18, will triple in excitement for Gail Gruetzman at the 1964 spelling bee Saturday, at Madison.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gruetzman, 106 Courtney Court, is an eighth grader and spelled her way to the 16th annual state spelling bee by defeating 16 other finalists from Neenah elementary and parochial schools.

"Advisable" is the word which spelled success for Gail, whose first love is really horses. A great help to her in these moments of excitement has been Kristi Wigstad, Neenah High School sophomore, who was a Badger Bee winner in 1962. She won the state contest by spelling "celibacy" and was eliminated in the eighth round in national competition Washington, D.C. by her failure to spell "chrysalis."

AHS Future Medics Entertain Golden Age Home Residents

This project was carried out by the girls as a part of the club's purpose of community service and acquainting its members with the medical profession. Ann Reetz is club president. Miss Carolyn Schull and Mrs. Viola Wochos are club advisers.

Tournament Numbers

Featured soloist of the evening will be cornetist Jerry Spice, Kaukauna High School junior. By receiving an "A" rating at the district tournament, he has obtained the right to compete in the state tournament at Oshkosh May 2. Saturday he will present his winning solo, "Contest Piece."

Included in the program are

$500,000 Expansion Plan Approved for FVL High

Work on Three-Phase Program Scheduled to Begin by May 1

A three-part expansion program expected to cost almost $500,000 was approved by the Fox Valley Lutheran High School Federation general board Thursday.

The board met to discuss whether to proceed with all, part or none of the proposed expansion project, and decided to begin the entire program immediately.

The board approved low bids totaling $387,765 for two additions and related remodeling in the present building. Furnishing, equipment, architect's fees and site improvements may bring the total cost close to half a million dollars, according to the Rev. Harold Warnke, school principal.

Year-Long Job

Architect Raymond LeVee said he hopes construction can be started by May 1. Construction will take about one year, but the school will begin using each section as soon as it is completed.

Pastor Warnke said school officials hope the new library and study hall will be ready for use by next fall. Enrollment is expected to pass 400 next fall. This year's enrollment is a crowded 385.

Bids for the project were opened Tuesday. Low bidders are A. H. Nimmer Construction Co., Kaukauna, general construction, $245,715; R. Wenzel Plumbing and Heating Co., Appleton, a combined bid of $86,850 for plumbing and heating, and Stephenson Electric Co., Appleton, $55,200 for electrical work.

Program Financing

Financing of the building program will be by a bank loan and individual loans or notes, over a 10 to 15-year period, according to Lloyd Doerfler, board member in charge of financing.

The goal of the four-year debt retirement and expansion fund drive, started in 1961, will not be increased at present because of the long-range financing plan, Doerfler said. However, renewed efforts will be made to bring the current drive to a successful conclusion, he said.

About $160,000 has been raised in the fund drive, Pastor Warnke said, and about $100,000 debt remains on the original building. More than $265,000 in pledges have been received by the fund drive, which had a goal of $425,000. The debt on the original building is expected to be paid.

Donald K. Wautelet Objects to Reporters, Photographers in Outagamie Courtroom

After objecting to the presence of news reporters and photographers in the court room and the setting of a high bond, Donald K. Wautelet, 29, Algoma, accused gunman who exchanged shots with Calumet County police and Appleton police early Wednesday morning was placed in the Outagamie County jail. He appeared in court today.

Wautelet will face a preliminary hearing May 1 on a charge of armed robbery. County Judge Stanley Staidl, sitting in for Judge Gustave Keller, set bond at $50,000.

Hospital authorities at St. Elizabeth Hospital early today signed a release to allow Wautelet to leave his guarded hospital room where he has been convalescing since he was wounded in two separate gun battles with police Wednesday morning. The gunfights came after Wautelet was stopped on S. Oneida Street by Calumet County Patrolman Irvin Vice who had been alerted to the armed robbery moments before at the Consolidated Service Station, 124 N. Richmond St.

Racine Men Admit $2,000 Robbery at Clinic in Menasha

Pair Held by Home Police For Burglaries

MENASHA — Police Chief Lester Clark this morning reported that two men held by Racine police have admitted the $2,000 safe robbery here March 20 at the Riverside Clinic.

A verbal confession to the robbery, which involved opening a safe and prying open several drawers in the clinic and a pharmacy, has apparently been obtained from the two men.

Charged with the robbery and one in Racine for which the men were arrested, are Ralph H. Williams, Racine, and Michael C. Hays, Milwaukee.

Hays is apparently the one with a skill in opening safes, police said.

Police Chief Clark this morning said warrants will be sought on the two men from Winnebago County.

The arrests and alleged confessions apparently clear up what has been the largest and most professional robbery in several years in Menasha. More than $2,000 in checks and cash were taken from the clinic and the Winnebago Pharmacy by persons police said were real professionals.

The two men said they burned the checks and papers taken from the safe. Only approximately $500 in cash were taken.

Oddly enough, the men apparently were not even aware of what city they were in when the clinic was robbed. Photographs processed by the Post-Crescent Neenah office showing the robbery scene were identified by the duo as "their work" and led to the verbal confessions.

The men denied entry and attempted robbery of a local grocery a few days following the clinic incident. In the grocery incident the knob was knocked from a safe but the safe not entered.

The men are among seven held on charges of burglary by Racine police who are connected with a series of thefts in communities stretching from Waukegan, Ill., through Wisconsin.

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of an eighth person connected with the burglaries.

Under Bond

Both Hays and Williams have been placed under $10,000 bond. All except Williams and one other man have waived preliminary hearings in Racine County Court.

Also arrested and charged in the burglaries are Daniel Manske, 36, Milwaukee; his brother, Ralph, 35, Milwaukee; Robert Kisten, 35, of Racine; Lawrence Gale, 35, Milwaukee, and Randall Nix, 36, of Racine.

Jays Rally for 9-8 Decision Over Wolves

Score Deciding Run on Error in Last of Seventh

MENASHA — Menasha picked itself up from off the floor to score six runs in the sixth inning and a tie-breaking marker in the seventh for a 9-8 triumph over Winneconne here Thursday afternoon.

The victory was the first in four starts for the Jays. All have been one-run decisions. They were scheduled to open Mid-Eastern Conference play at Kimberly this afternoon.

The Menashans scored twice in the first inning on two walks, Morry Quick's double and a sacrifice and then were blanked until the sixth. Meanwhile, the Wolves pushed across one marker in the first and collected seven in the third. Ed Ochowicz and Jim Nickel belted homers.

Hits by Mike LeRoy, Bob Wendt and Dick Sorensen, three walks and four Winneconne errors produced six runs in the sixth. The potential lead run was cut down on an attempted theft of home.

Dave Johnson walked to open the Bluejays' seventh. Wendt was safe on a fielder's choice when the throw reached second base too late on his bunt. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Dennis Hughes was given an intentional walk to load the sacks.

Dick Sorensen grounded to first and Johnson was forced at the plate but in the haste for a double play, the throw from the plate to third went into left field and Wendt scored with the winning run.

Freshman Jack Mauthe and Johnson, a sophomore, shared the Menasha mound duties with Johnson getting the win. Winneconne only had one base runner in the last four innings and it was on an error.

Mike Schroll hurled six innings for Winneconne and LeRoy Gilson worked the seventh and took the loss.

The victory may have been costly for the Jays since pitcher-outfielder Mike Vindhurst was hit on the knuckles of his right hand early in the game and was forced to leave.

Shakespeare's Works Alive on College Stage

BY JAMES AUER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

"...Soul of the age, the applause, delight and wonder of our stage..."

The words are Ben Jonson's, in his "Tribute to Shakespeare." The sentiment is universal, shared by the entire English-speaking world on the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's birth.

And Shakespeare's legacy has seldom been more alive than Thursday evening, as a company of actors and academicians who feel "deeply possessive" of his plays and poems present an informal program of readings at Harper Hall of the Lawrence Music-Drama Center.

Parlor Program

Both the college and the community at large were represented in what Dr. David Mayer III, who introduced the program, described as "a succession of parlor entertainments," without costumes or settings.

But the excellence of the performances, and the grandeur of the language, lifted the evening far above a mere memorial tribute to the poet-dramatist whom Jonson truthfully described as "a monument without a tomb."

Instead, as the performers achieved successive high points of hilarity and dramatic tension, their scenes demonstrated anew Shakespeare's unequalled versatility, as well as his continuing freshness and pertinence to our time.

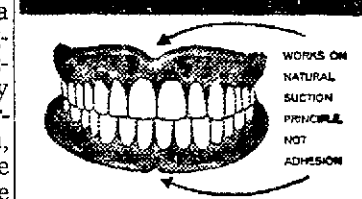

Top Contributions

To single out particular actors for specific praise is perhaps unfair, in view of the program's informal nature. Nevertheless, a reviewer cannot fail to recognize the distinguished contributions of such thespians as Tony Dodge and Virginia Allen, portraying the embittered monarch, Richard II, and the woman he woos even as she follows the bier of a man whom Richard murdered.

Nor can one ignore P. K. Allen's impassioned Romeo, to Marcia Miller's poignant Juliet, or Jack Swanson's vigorous Falstaff, so crisply complemented Tom Braun's acidulous Prince Hal.

F. Theodore Cloak's impersonation of Laurence, a comic servant from "Two Gentlemen of Verona," provided a rib-tickling glimpse of Shakespeare garbed in his cap and bells,

Shipping Charge Boost Asked to Cover Wage Hike

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — To cover the cost of driver wage increases contracted for 1965 and 1966, Wisconsin intrastate truckers have asked the Public Service Commission to approve an increase in charges to shippers.

The Wisconsin Motor Carriers Association said the adjustments asked would provide an immediate increase in the minimum rate for single line and joint line service of 50 cents and a 2 per cent raise in all other rates and charges.

Effective Feb. 1, 1965, minimum charges would be increased 30 cents more, and on Feb.

eliminated by the end of this year.

The high school expansion project will include three parts, a one-story classroom wing to the north of the present building, a two-story addition attached to the east of the auditorium wing, and remodeling of the present cafeteria and kitchen. The capacity of the school will be increased from 275 to about 375 students.

Construction will concentrate first on the classroom wing. This will have a study hall for 125 students, with two attached conference rooms; an adjoining library with room for 55 students, with attached workrooms and storage space; a tiered science lecture room with seating for students, connected to a future biology laboratory which will be used temporarily as a regular classroom for 60 students; three classrooms for 45, 35 and 30 students each; a two-room business and a janitor's room. A plant and animal room for biological study will be located beneath the science lecture room.

East Addition

The addition east of the gymnasium will have a music suite with a large band and choir room, three practice rooms, music storage rooms and an office; rooms for the student newspaper and yearbook, canteen, bookstore and restrooms on the upper floor. On the ground floor will be a cafeteria with seating for 300, a kitchen and a boys' locker room. The cafeteria and kitchen will be located beneath the gymnasium, so the academic area will not be affected by noon hour noise.

The present cafeteria, kitchen and canteen area near the main entrance will be converted into a faculty room, home economics room and kitchen, and a guidance center with an office, three interview rooms and a waiting room.

In 1966, a further increase of 40 cents would be imposed to the minimum rates, assuming there is no further expense increase to the carriers in the interim. If there are additional wage adjustments, they will be reflected in proposals for further rate increases, it was said.

Calumet County Sets Sabin Vaccine Dates

20,000 Expected to Receive Type I Oral Drops at Clinics Sunday

CHILTON—20,000 people are expected to receive Sabin oral polio vaccine during administration at five centers throughout the county May 3.

Members of the county medical society are working on final details for the first clinics and the follow up clinics June 7.

Administration centers for the vaccine are gymnasiums of Chilton, Hilbert, New Holstein, Brillion and Stockbridge high schools.

Medical society members have stated that both doses are vital to assure maximum protection. The first dose is Type I and the second will be combination of Type II and III.

The Sabin on Sunday (SOS) will be administered from noon to 4 p.m. Officials believed the four hours would be adequate to serve the population of the county.

Officials explained taking the vaccine is fast and simple. Two drops of the vaccine are placed on a lump of sugar to be consumed by adults and children. An eyedropper will be used to give the vaccine to infants directly.

Volunteer Help

Many organizations and groups have volunteered their services during the administration of the vaccine. Participating will be Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and various women's auxiliary organizations. Traffic will be handled by county police and civil defense auxiliary police.

The vaccine will be stored at Calumet Memorial Hospital until administration.

No "make up" clinics have been scheduled, officials said.

A 25 cent charge will be made for the administration of the vaccine.

Xavier Girls to Have Conventional Schedule

ment returned to the conventional 55-minute classes meeting five days a week for afternoon sessions, but continued the new schedule for morning classes. The revision was made because the longer school day under the new schedule—from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.—proved to be too tiring for both students and teachers, according to Sister M. Peter, girls' department principal.

Girls' Change

Next September the girls' department will change to an eight-period school day with 55-minute classes meeting five days a week. The school day will run from 7:45 a.m. to 3:26 p.m. Some students will begin and end classes one period earlier than others, in a plan similar to one being considered for Appleton High School.

This schedule will help provide room for more students, classes will be held at the beginning and end of the day and during lunch periods, so that classrooms will be used to maximum capacity during most of the day, she said.

Sister Peter said she believed the 70-minute class periods are "too long for sustained attention," except in science and physical education courses. The girls' department faculty did not like the college-type schedule, she said, although the enrichment periods worked out very well. Enrichment activities next year will be during the regular class periods.

Commenting on the effectiveness of the college-type schedule in the boys' department, Brother Peter said, "We feel that the schedule has proved itself for upperclassmen." The faculty is "unanimous in their acceptance," and feels that standards have been maintained even with three meetings a week, he said.

"We are hesitant to predict that this schedule is the best thing for ninth and 10th graders," Brother Peter said. "They are making quite an adjustment to high school. The better students among them have accepted the challenge of the freedom and responsibility."

Modified Day

At the National Catholic Education Association convention in Atlantic City, N. J., attended by 15,000 educators, Brother Peter said he heard of schools using modifications of the longer school day and split schedules but learned of none using a schedule to Xavier's college-type plan.

He was on a three-member panel speaking to about 500 administrators at the convention, and spoke on "Scheduling to Accommodate Large Enrollments." The other two men on the panel received no questions, but Brother Peter answered questions from the floor for half an hour after his talk, and another 15 to 20 persons remained after the session was dismissed to ask more questions on how the schedule might be adapted to their schools.

In his convention talk, Brother Peter said Xavier's experimental plan for scheduling classes has saved almost $500,000 in construction costs. He said that by adopting the plan, Xavier was able to enroll 650 boys in a department designed for 450.

"without sacrificing any degree of excellence in its academic program." It saved the school the construction of new facilities for the larger enrollment, he said.

Brother Peter told the administrators the more able student profited significantly from the schedule. Having the desire to excel academically, he is given unusual opportunity to use his initiative," he said.

It's a little too much car for the money.

Never mind the money. It's a little too much car for the car. The engine, for example, is assembled by hand. It's machined to such close tolerances, it won't burn a thimbleful of oil. Poke around the parts and you'll find things you won't even find on some high-priced sports jobs. Like an oil cooler. Or a carburetor de-icer. Or a sealed bottom. Or the only four-wheel independent torsion bar suspension system on a sedan. How do all those plums get thrown in for the price?

By spending time on changes to make the car work better. Not look different. And the money that's saved by not retooling for new styles gets poured right back into the car. (Into a fourth coat of paint, for instance. For a finish you don't look at, so much as into.)

Now for the money: $1,595 00 Fully assembled.

Mountain Music Trio Appearing in Appleton

Mike Seeger; at Chapel May 22

Mike Seeger's New Lost City Ramblers will present the Fox Valley's first major folk music concert of the year Friday, May 22, at Lawrence College Memorial Chapel.

The group, specializing in folk song from the Appalachian Mountain region, is coming to the Fox Cities after appearances in the Boston area.

Seeger, leader of the group, comes from a family steeped in musical background. Best known is his brother, Pete Seeger, one of the leading figures in the current folk music renaissance and vocalist who recorded the best-seller, "Little Boxes."

Seeger's sister, Peggy, also is one of the leading folk musicians in the U.S. and Great Britain, singing mostly with English balladeer Ewan MacColl. His father, Charles Seeger, is a leading musicologist.

Seeger combines his background and talents with the other two members of the Ramblers, John Cohen and Tracy Schwarz. The trio accompanies its mountain song according to Seeger, to recreate the rough, ragged music of the mountain string bands of the 1920s and 1930s. The Ramblers term their brand of folk song "old-timey" music.

While the group attempts to present mountain ballads in their ethnically true form, Seeger emphasizes that the Ramblers do not attempt to give literal note-for-note recreations of the original music.

In addition to its concert and television performances, the group also has recorded eight long-play record albums and published instrumental instruction books, currently among the best-selling folk music books on the market.

Ticket sale plans have not been announced.

Groucho Plays As Lead in His Own Show

BY TV SCOUT

7:30-8:30 (Channel 4-5) — In a lively adaptation of a Broadway comedy, which Groucho Marx and Norman Krassa wrote in 1948, Groucho is a long suffering Madison Avenue executive who one day calls it quits and retires to Florida. In "Time for Elizabeth" on Bob Hope Presents, the cigar-chewing comedian, however, soon discovers he is still too young for the easy, sunbaked life and yearns to return to the hustle of selling washing machines. 6:30-7:30 (Channel 2) — The Great Adventure repeats "The Outlaw and the Nun," one of the least historically accurate shows of the series about a determined nun who encounters Billy the Kid.

6:30-7:30 (Channel 11) — You'll have to keep your tongue in cheek for the whole hour of Destry if you are to believe tonight's obvious comparison of today's and yesteryears' juvenile delinquents.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 2) — Route 66 repeats "The Mud Nest." On a whim Tod (Martin Milner) and Buz (George Maharis) turn off the turnpike and find themselves in a tiny town in rural Maryland where they find a family who all look and act like Buz.

7:30-8:30 (Channel 11) — There are several well-manicured claws to scratch out Gene Barry on Burke's Law when he investigates a murder at a health spa. The place is dedicated to

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Twilight Zone will raise the eyebrows and blood pressure of its fans who delight in science fiction or have experienced a hangover in "Slopover in a Quiet Town."

8:30-9 (Channel 4-5) — That Was The Week That Was—the brittle, satirical comment on the last seven days in the wry hands of Nancy Ames, Henry Morgan and Dick Noel. Elliott Reid is host.

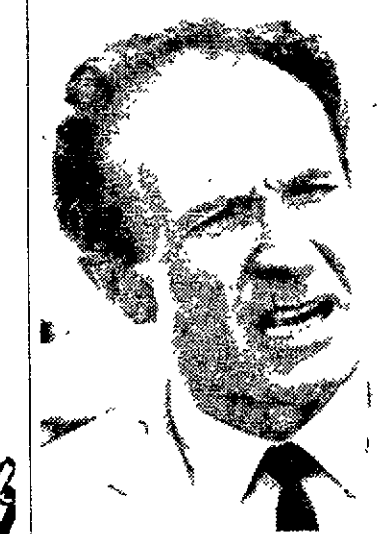

8:30-9 (Channel 11) — The Price is Right has Florence Henderson, the Broadway musical comedy star, as celebrity guest.

9-10 (Channel 2) — The Alfred Hitchcock Hour repeats "Terror in Northfield," the Elery Queen thriller in which an embittered farmer attempts to take justice into his own hands in revenge for his son's murder.

Robber Fails to Get Baloney, Own $10 Bill
DETROIT (AP)—A woman's fright cost a would-be bandit $10 Thursday.

Ordering a pound of baloney and offering a $10 bill, the man tricked grocery store operator Madeline Aluia into opening the cash register. Then he pointed a gun.

Mrs. Aluia, 57, screamed and ran out holding his $10 bill. The man fled, too, leaving the baloney.

Actor Barry Morse, persistent law man in "The Fugitive," has made 10 round trips from his home in Toronto, Canada, to Hollywood to play his part in the television show. He has no thought of moving, saying that it's easier for him to travel than to uproot his family, a wife and two children.

MacDowell Chorus on TV, Radio Programs

Appleton MacDowell Chorus will make both a Fox Valley radio and television appearance this weekend in preview of its May 2 concert at Lawrence College Memorial Chapel.

The chorus will sing several concert selections on the Saturday "Noon Show" on WBAY-TV, Channel 2.

Recorded selections of the chorus will be broadcast at 1:05 p.m. Sunday, "The People Sing" program over WAPL Radio, 1570, Appleton. Marshall Granros is presenting this Granros will feature music from a MacDowell souvenir record released last year and from the master tape of a second recording to be released this spring.

Stars in Person Appeal to Public

NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial television may be free, but experience has shown that the viewing public is happy to spend hard cash to see their favorites in the flesh.

Result is a flourishing and extremely profitable sideline for many popular television performers. It is personal appearances, summer theatre performances and special acts for fairs, rodeos and exhibitions. Stars of westerns are always in demand for state and county fairs and rodeos.

Performers who are not considered actors by the television public are very popular with audiences. Among them are Merv Griffin, Allen Ludden, Hugh Downs and Ed McMahon.

Ken Johnson, of Houston, Hurls No-Hitter, But Loses

Reds Win On Error In Ninth

BY MURRAY CHASE
Associated Press Sports Writer
"So I made history. Heckuva way to get into the books, isn't it?"

Houston pitcher Ken Johnson had just pitched a unique no-hit game against his former Cincinnati teammates Thursday night and lost 1-0 on two errors in the ninth inning, one of them his.

It was the first no-hit game of the young major league season and the second in the Colts' brief three-year history. But it was even more than that.

Johnson is the first pitcher ever to hurl a no-hitter and lose in a nine-inning game and the first ever to lose a game without giving the opposing team a hit. Other pitchers have gone through nine hitless innings but lost in extra innings after allowing hits.

Throws Knuckleball Johnson, a knuckleball specialist, was well aware of the no-hitter during the game. After the seventh inning, he asked teammate Don Nottebart, "How's a guy supposed to feel, Notty? What do you do?"

Nottebart, who hurled Houston's first no-hit game last May 17 against Philadelphia, replied: "Stay loose and keep going."

After he had concluded his bizarre performance, Johnson scorned sympathy. "What else can I do?" he asked, smiling. "I pitched the best game of my life. I can't feel bad because I lost it. Actually, I feel worse for the guys on the club. I guess that sounds funny, but it's true."

"I guess that I'd as soon have won it 1-0 on 12 hits than lose it like this. Now, I can't say that. You know, right after the game was over—even before the last out—I was trying to think of some smart words, some good words, to make the fellows feel better. But I just drew a blank."

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped Pittsburgh 15, Los Angeles downed St. Louis 7-5 for its first victory after seven straight de-

Cleveland Posts 3-2 Win Over Angels as McBride Equals Mark

Losing Hurler Hits 4 Batters, Forces in Run

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's department of unique statistics has had its first busy day of the season.

Some three hours after Houston's Ken Johnson earned a place in the record book by losing a no-hitter to Cincinnati 1-0 Thursday night, Ken McBride of the Los Angeles Angels entered the sweepstakes.

McBride, who previously had hit two batters with pitches, stood out on the mound in the ninth inning and hit two more, forcing in Cleveland's winning run in a 3-2 victory and equaling an American League record for most hit batters in one game.

McBride got into the ninth inning jam on singles by Fred Whitfield and Tito Francona, who collected the 1,000th hit of his major league career earlier in the game. McBride then hit Johnny Romano and Woody Held in succession, forcing in the tie-breaking run.

Orioles Split

The Baltimore Orioles gained a doubleheader split with Boston, winning the nightcap of a two-night doubleheader 1-0 behind the pitching of Robin Roberts after a 3-1 opening game loss.

In the opener, the Orioles lost the services of Steve Barber, the only Baltimore 20-game winner since the club rejoined the American League 10 years ago.

Barber pulled a muscle under his left shoulder blade in the pre-game warmup, was tagged for two runs in the first inning and then forced to leave. There was no word on how long Barber would be sidelined.

Only one other game was scheduled in the AL. In that, Bill Skowron drove in the winning run with a single in the eighth inning as Washington edged Minnesota 5-4.

The Angels pulled ahead of the Indians 2-0 in the fourth on a triple by Jim Fregosi, an infield out, an error, a stolen base and Bob Rodgers' single. The Indians tied it in the fifth when Whitfield doubled, Francona singled for his 1,000th hit and pitcher Dick Donovan singled both home.

Donovan's Credit

Donovan got credit for the victory when the bizarre ending was fashioned by McBride.

The Red Sox put the opener away against the ailing Barber in the first inning, scoring twice on a single by Ed Bressoud, a walk, Frank Malzone's single

DeMars Optimistic About '64 Season

Foxes Get Big Welcome

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The 1964 Fox Cities Foxes were officially welcomed Thursday night by one of the largest and most enthusiastic banquet audiences in the club's history.

More than 315 persons, who attended the banquet at the Country Aire club, heard Foxes Manager Billy DeMars present an optimistic outlook on the '64 season and Hall-of-Famer Burleigh Grimes give reminiscences about his colorful career.

DeMars termed the "welcome home" dinner "by far the best I've attended in my 22 years in baseball."

DeMars, who is starting his second season at the helm of the Foxes, said this is "the best group of players I've left camp with in my career . . . I like everything about the club better than the one I brought last year."

Starting Pitcher

The manager introduced all of his players, including the starting pitchers in Sunday's twin-bill opener at Gundland Field — Ed Hawkins and Steve Caria — six Foxes who played here all of part of the '63 season (Dave May, Roger Sorenson, Ted Richardson, Tim Sommer, Henry King and Stan Walters) and the first Hawaiians in professional baseball (brothers John and Bob Matias).

The other players introduced were catchers John Burrows and Fred Rico; pitchers Joe Costello, Joe DeLuise, Jerry Glass, Jim Jankow and Tom Zink, infielders Mike Gannon, Steve Hunt, and John Sepich; and outfielder Ray Witkowski.

Grims spun a number of baseball yarns, including a mention of the time he pitched only two minutes in the ninth inning. Umpires once threatened to have the game forfeited if the ninth inning exuberance was not controlled, but the game was completed and the Braves lost to the San Francisco Giants 8-6.

One group of teen-age girls was roughed up by teen-age boys and girls outside the bleacher entrance. About 20 girls reported that tickets were torn from their hands. A girl's mouth was cut and another had a tooth loosened by a punch.

Fans in the upper deck tossed beer cans onto the field, police said.

Seven Young Men Fined for Running on Braves' Field

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Seven young men who ran onto the field at Milwaukee County Stadium during the Milwaukee Braves' home opener were fined Thursday on disorderly conduct charges.

Rowdiness in and near the stadium Wednesday was described by Police Inspector Raymond Dahl as "the worst in our experience."

County Judge P. Ryan Duffy Jr. fined John W. Foley, 21, of Waukesha, Wis., $100 for jumping to the field from the bleachers.

Fined $50 each and costs were Michael Casey, 21, and Robert

Jays Down Waupaca, Omro in Triangular

Sorenson Sets New Menasha Mark In High Hurdles

MENASHA — Menasha captured firsts in seven of the eight running events to outdistance Omro and Waupaca in a triangular meet here Thursday. The Bluejays racked up 67 points to Omro's 49 and 32 for Waupaca.

Leading the Bluejays were double winners Darrell Remond and Dan Hoks. Sorenson established a new school record in the high hurdles, copping in 15 seconds flat, and he skimmed over the lows in 21.5 seconds. He also took a third in the 100 yard dash.

Hoks, a sophomore, won the century in the good time of 10.4 seconds, took the 220 in 23.7 and ran the anchor leg on the winning relay team.

Other Bluejay winners were sophomore Dennis Klapper in the 440 (54.5), Bob Smazinski, half mile (2:10.6), Neil Stachowicz, discus (123 feet, 4 inches) and the medley and sprint relay teams.

Omro's first were bagged by Scott Miller in the mile, Glenn Tews, shot put, and Keith Butkiewicz, high jump. Butkiewicz's

Viking '9' Will Duel Carleton

Seeks to Crash Victory Circle In Road Tests

The Lawrence College baseball team will travel to Northfield, Minn. for a Midwest Conference doubleheader with Carleton Saturday afternoon.

The Vikings will be seeking to notch their initial victory of the 1964 campaign. The Vikings dropped a non-loop affair to Oshkosh State in the opener and lost a pair of Midwest Conference toughies to Beloit Saturday.

Coach Clyde Rusk indicated that he would use Steve Bernstein, Bob Mueller and Chris Isley on the mound. Bob Dude, the top hitter on the Vike roster, will be in center field. Dude has collected five hits in nine trips.

Bob Mueller will head the Lawrence batting lineup after a fine performance in the lead-off spot against Beloit. Others expected to see action are Tim Knabe, Don Foster, Jack Harwood, Jim Lynum and Paul Clark.

Bob Schoenwetter and Tom Conley may see action in the outfield.

Carleton is expected to start Neil Dunn and Jack Jorgens on the mound. The pair hurled the full route in two victories over Ripon College, the defending Midwest Conference titlist, last Saturday.

Carleton's plate attack is led by senior veteran Gar Horschgen. Horschgen boasts a .400 career average of over .400.

Hornung Started on Conditioning Program

Daily Workout Includes Running Up Stadium Steps

GREEN BAY (AP) — Green Bay scoring ace Paul Hornung has launched a training program of stiff drills daily in preparation for his return to the Packers after a year's suspension by the National Football League.

Only a few pounds over his normal playing weight of 215, Hornung began a special conditioning schedule set by Coach Vince Lombardi earlier this week in City Stadium.

"Calisthenics, running and then the steps," the 28-year-old Hornung said. "I want to get into the best physical condition I've ever been in."

Daily Drills

Hornung started the daily drills by jogging a mile and then running up and down the stadium steps—"all 60 of them, to the top," Hornung used the step running in 1962 to strengthen a knee which had been injured.

The Packers' "Golden Boy" said that the knee doesn't "bother me and I won't have any trouble with it." He added that later he will get teammate Henry Jordan, a resident of Green Bay, "to tackle me a few times."

Hornung said that he will remain in Green Bay except for visits to his home in Louisville and a few speaking engagements elsewhere in Wisconsin.

"I've got to get acquainted all over again," he said with a laugh.

Hornung and Detroit's Alex Karras were suspended by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle April 17, 1963, for betting on games. They were reinstated March 16.

Omro's first were bagged by Scott Miller in the mile, Glenn Tews, shot put, and Keith Butkiewicz, high jump. Butkiewicz's balls in a double header and lost both games in relief.

"Baseball has changed," observed Grimes, "but I think it's great."

"Don't get discouraged," Grimes advised the new group of Foxes, "you learn more in games you lose than in the ones you win."

Other speakers included Foxes President Bob Rahn, who gave the club's official welcome; Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell, who gave the city's welcome; and club general manager Ralph Mueller, who predicted a good season for the Foxes. Bob Lloyd was the master of ceremonies, and a Xavier High School musical group presented entertainment.

Big ovations went to Ray McClone, who retired from the club presidency after six years, and Bob Willis (by proxy), who left the general managership after six seasons for a position in Orlando, Fla.

Probable PGA Record Opening Round Produces 10-Way Tie at San Antonio

BY HAROLD V. RATLIFF

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The PGA doesn't carry such a statistic but the 10-man tie for first place in the $40,000 Texas Open's first round Thursday was believed to be a record.

Nobody could remember it ever happening before. They knew it certainly never had happened in the Texas Open, which is in its 37th year.

Six tied for the lead in the second round last year and it was agreed then that it was a record.

The 10 were jammed at the top with three-under-par 67s over the 6,715-yard Oak Hills Country Club course.

Big Names

The big names—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Julius Boros—passed up the Texas Open this year. But there still were some pretty well-known and respected fellows working over par.

The leaders include Gene Littler, former National Open champion; Bob Charles, British Open king; Bob Rosburg, former PGA champion; Don January, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison; Charles Sifford, the Negro star playing in his first Texas Open, and Jack Rife.

The only players who have not yet notched a tournament victory were Jerry Steelsmith, Terry Dill and Gary Floan. Dill and Floan are recent collegians, Dill at the University of Texas and Floan at University of Idaho.

The 52-year-old Harrison gave the crowd a boost when he sank a 20-foot putt on No. 18 to tie for the lead after a stirring comeback from a bogey and double bogey on the front nine.

Littler barely missed becoming the undisputed leader. He three-putted 18, bobbling a four-footer on his second try.

Thirty players racked up par in the first round, which was about an average for the Texas Open.

The Knickers downed the Alley Cats in two of three games to win the girls' championship. The Knickers hit a 738 game and a 2,110 series. Judy Dietrich was high with a 177 game and a 461 set.

Trophies and awards will be presented teen-age bowlers of both leagues at a 3 p.m. Saturday party in the Youth Center.

Aspromonte Signs Japanese Pact

Terms of the contract were not disclosed. A club spokesman said Aspromonte would report in early May.

and a double by Dick Stuart. Carl Yastrzemski homered in the third for the other run.

Jack Lamabe, a reliever last year, won his second consecutive start with help from Dick Radatz. Boog Powell's double and a single by John Orsino scored the only Orioles run off Lamabe.

In the second game, Roberts scattered nine Red Sox hits for his first victory. The lone run off Boston starter Dave Morehead came across in the eighth on consecutive singles by Jack Brandt, Luis Aparicio and Norm Siebern.

The Twins led 4-3 when the Senators struck back in the eighth inning after blowing an early lead built on Jim King's three-run homer. Fred Valentine's single and a double by Don Zimmer produced the tying run in the eighth. Singles by Don Blasingame and Skowron got the winner across.

The victory went to Steve Riddick. Lee Stange was the loser.

U.S. Cuban Policy Has Narrow Limits

Undersecretary Defends Embargo Imposed Upon Regime of Fidel Castro

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — Undersecretary of State George W. Ball says U.S. policy toward Communist Cuba must fall within a narrow limit — between war, which Washington rejects, and negotiation, which is out of the question.

This means, Ball said Thursday night, the U.S. government must pursue its present line of action: Strengthen Latin-American nations to resist Red subversion and reduce Havana's power to advance communism through means short of war.

Ball chose the Omicron Delta Kappa Society convention for what amounted to endorsement of present Cuban policy and a defense of the embargo the United States has mounted against the island.

Rail Rate Reduction Is Opposed

KENOSHA (AP) — W. Casey Schmitz, chairman of Kenosha's harbor commission, said Thursday that Wisconsin's Lake Michigan port cities and state officials must be prepared to fight a railroad request for a reduction in the rates for shipping flour from Midwest areas to the Gulf ports.

"We've got to stay in this fight," Schmitz said. "If we lose, it will have a brutal effect on our harbor." He commented after attending a Chicago meeting on the "flour rate case" now before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Sante Fe and the Rock Island railroads have petitioned the ICC for a cut in rates for hauling flour to Gulf ports from Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado. The rates are now equal between Great Lakes and Gulf ports.

The railroads could have put the cuts into effect seven months ago, but held off awaiting an ICC opinion. However, they served notice the reductions will be made May 15.

"If we lose the decision," Schmitz said, "we'll lose the flour traffic, and if we lose the flour traffic, we'll lose Mediterranean traffic because of a lack of tonnage. If we lose that—the trend will be downhill all the way."

Schmitz said the cities of Kenosha, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Chicago and Midwestern railroads, the attorneys general of Wisconsin and Michigan and the port operating companies and other interested parties must be prepared to take action to block the rate change either before or after they are filed.

New U. S. Chief For S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Thursday night that Maj. Gen. Richard G. Stilwell has been named chief of staff of the U.S. Military Assistance Command in South Viet Nam.

Stilwell succeeds Marine Maj. Gen. Richard G. Weede, who will return to Washington next month for duty at Marine Corps headquarters.

Stilwell, 47, has been assistant chief of staff for operations in the Military Assistance Command in South Viet Nam since April 1963. He is not related to the late Gen. Joseph (Vinegar Joe) Stilwell, World War II commander in Burma.

Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, also is in Viet Nam as head of the U.S. Army support command.

63 Security Risks Found By Government

State Department Says All Resigned When Shown Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: SECURITY RISKS: The State Department says it found 63 security risks in its ranks last year, most of them homosexuals, none subversives.

The report was given to a House Appropriations subcommittee in closed session Feb. 4 and released by the subcommittee Thursday. The department has 25,000 employees.

Raymond W. Laugel, acting deputy assistant secretary for security, told the subcommittee all 63 employees resigned after the department showed them its evidence.

BAKER: An Internal Revenue Service investigation has established that Bobby Baker forged an accountant's name to 1961 federal income tax returns, Commissioner Mortimer Caplin said in a letter to Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., of the Senate Rules Committee.

Caplin said Baker signed the name of Milton L. Haut as the preparer of the individual return submitted by Baker and by his wife Dorothy and also as the preparer of his partnership return on the Carousel Motel in Ocean City, Md.

"These facts will be further considered by the service as they relate to Mr. Baker's tax affairs," Caplin said.

Baker resigned under fire Oct. 7 as $19,600-a-year secretary to the Senate's Democrats.

ANPA Cited as Flag-Carrier For Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Gene Robb, publisher of two Albany (N.Y.) newspapers and the new president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, says the association "carries the flag" of the newspaper business.

And he says he will do his level best to uphold the principles of the association, which represents 884 newspapers.

Robb, publisher of the Times-Union and the Knickerbocker News, made the pledge after his election by the ANPA Thursday.

His first official act was presentation of a plaque to outgoing President Irwin Maier, president and publisher of the Milwaukee Journal and the Milwaukee Sentinel. Maier had served the association's traditional two one-year terms as president. Presentation of the plaque was the final event of the ANPA's convention, for which a record-high 1,563 persons were registered.

Stilwell's son, Brig. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, also is in Viet Nam as head of the U.S. Army support command.

Feared Demonstrators

School Officials Plan Reopening Next Week

CHESTER, Pa. (AP)—Chester school officials who closed the city's 16 public schools Wednesday because they feared for the safety of the pupils say they will reopen the schools next week.

But civil rights demonstrators say they'll close them again.

Mrs. Francis P. Donahoe, president of the school board, said Thursday that one of the public schools will be reopened Monday and, if there are no further incidents, the junior high schools and elementary schools would be reopened Tuesday.

At a rally Thursday night, however, Frank Brooks, treasurer of the Committee for Freedom Now, said, "We're going to close them up again."

Going Ahead John J. Vaul, assistant superintendent of schools, said the board was going ahead with its plans despite the statement.

The demonstrators are protesting alleged de facto school segregation and have held almost daily demonstrations for the past month.

Chester police arrested a total of 216 persons on Wednesday as civil rights groups staged sit-ins at public buildings and schools and, later, protested in front of the home of a Delaware County Republican leader.

Some eight persons were injured during those demonstrations, including a newspaper reporter for the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin and three law officers. The reporter, Timothy Tyler, was also arrested and charged with assaulting an officer.

Thursday night police arrested Edward Tucker, 19, of Chester, after a patrol car was stoned and two policemen injured by broken glass.

Ronald Ellis, 20, of Chester, was arrested later and charged with disorderly conduct after reportedly shouting insults at a policeman.

At the Thursday night rally, Brooks accused Chester and State Police of brutality in Wednesday night's demonstrations.

Louis Brown, vice president of the Chester chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told the demonstrators: "Don't damage cars and don't hurt people. They don't do it in Birmingham (Ala.) or Jackson (Miss.). It would hurt our cause," he said.

Another speaker, Louis Smith, regional director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said that National CORE director James Farmer, arrested in demonstrations at the New York World's Fair Wednesday, would be released today and would come to Chester to speak at a rally tonight and then lead a protest march.

Laos Leaders Agree To Conditions Asked By Right-Wing Rebels

Vietiane Will Remain in Hands of Coup Principals Until Government Is Formed

BY DON HUTH

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Premier Souvanna Phouma announced today that he and his Cabinet have agreed to conditions laid down by right-wing rebels for settlement of the Laotian crisis. But coup leaders said they would not relinquish control of Vientiane until formation of a government they approve.

The rightist military leaders, who seized control of the capital Sunday and put Prince Souvanna under house arrest, demanded that he enlarge his government. They demanded that he add to it "qualified personalities" — meaning right-wingers — recommended by the rebels.

Government Powers Prince Souvanna said the coalition Cabinet of neutralists, rightists and pro-Communists accepted various points of the demand and therefore "considers that there is a continuity in the exercise of its government powers."

The Cabinet "has accepted all clauses included in our motion," Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, the leader of the coup, told a news conference. But his deputy, Gen. Siho Lamphouthakoul, said: "We will maintain military control of the city of Vientiane until the formation of a government according to our wishes."

It was by no means certain that the agreement between Souvanna and the rightists would be approved by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao, an integral member of the coalition government. Its army controls a large part of Laos.

Pathet Lao The decision must come from the Pathet Lao headquarters in Khang Khay, where Prince Souphannouvong, Pathet Lao leader and deputy premier, has holed up since he began a boycott of the government 14 months ago.

Souphannouvong in the past has repudiated a number of Cabinet decisions announced by Souvanna on the basis of agreement between him and his rightwing deputy premier, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

Asked whether the Pathet Lao had agreed to the right-wing demands, Kouprasith said: "This is not our business. It is up to Souvanna's coalition to handle this question."

Couldnt Have Gone On, Colts' Johnson Says After Losing No-Hitter

'Nobody's Fault But My Own,' Hurler Claims

HOUSTON (AP)—"I pitched the best game of my life. I can't feel bad because I lost it."

That's the way right-hander Ken Johnson of the Houston Colts described his performance against the Cincinnati Reds Thursday night when he became the first pitcher in major league history to pitch a no-hitter and lose in nine innings. It was the first no-hitter of the 1964 season.

The Reds scored an unearned run in the ninth inning on two errors for their 1-0 victory.

One of the errors was by Johnson and the other by veteran second baseman Nellie Fox. "Even if we had tied it," Johnson said, "I couldn't have gone on."

He displayed an ugly bruise, the shape and color of a plum, on his leg.

Caromed off Shin

Johnson said he received the bruise when Chico Ruiz hit a line drive that caromed off his shin in the ninth. Bob Aspromonte played the carom and threw Ruiz out.

Johnson figured it was the

closest the Reds came to a hit. "Actually I feel worse for the boys on the club," Johnson said in the dressing room after the game. "I guess that sounds funny, but it's true."

Johnson, seeking his third straight win of the season, was practically untouchable for eight innings. He started his own downfall with one out in the ninth when he fielded Pete Rose's bunt and threw wild on the inside of the bag as Rose went all the way to second.

Ruiz' hard grounder then struck Johnson on the leg and caromed off toward third. Aspromonte alertly fielded the ball and threw out Ruiz, with Rose going to third.

Easy Chance

Vada Pinson grounded to Fox, who booted the relatively easy chance on a short hop, and Rose sped home with the only run of the game.

In the dressing room, Johnson put his arm around Fox's shoulder.

"I told Nellie it wasn't his fault," Johnson said. "It was mine. I put the guy (Rose) on base, and I have no one to blame but myself."

Johnson, termed a hard-luck pitcher, had an 11-17 record last year and lost many because his teammates could not produce any runs for him. However, he won his last five games in 1963 and recorded a 2.65 earned run average.

Nine pitchers before Johnson had no-hitters at the end of nine, but allowed hits and were beaten in extra innings. The last was Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh, who lost to Milwaukee in 1959.

"But Haddix pitched a much better game than I did," said Johnson. "He went 12 innings without giving up a hit."

Aware From Start

Johnson was aware from the start that he had a no-hitter going. At the end of the seventh, he sat down beside Don Nottebart on the Colt bench and whispered to the Colts' first no-hitter pitcher.

"How's a guy supposed to feel, Notty? What do you do?"

Answered Nottebart: "Stay loose and keep going."

Nottebart pitched his no-hitter against Philadelphia May 17, 1963, despite an unearned run by the Phils. The score of that one was 4-1.

"You know, right after the game was over — even before the last out — I was trying to think of some smart words, some good words, to make the fellows feel better," Johnson said, "but I just drew a blank."

"I know one thing. It's nobody's fault but my own."

The rest of the Colts had little to say. Fox dressed slowly and left without a word.

"I feel sorry for Nellie," Johnson said. "I know he feels bad."

3 Double Plays

The Reds pulled off three double plays behind lefty Joe Nuxhall, who pitched a fine five-inning effort.

But Colt Manager Harry Craft was in no mood to analyze the game.

"We didn't score any runs," he said. "That's the whole story."

The only base runner for the Reds through eight innings was Pinson, who walked on a 3-2 pitch in the first and Bob Skinner who also walked on a full count in the fifth. Johnson fanned nine.

Johnson, 30, broke into organized baseball in 1952 and reached the majors with Kansas City in 1958. He was purchased by Cincinnati in 1962 and at the end of the year was placed on the expansion draft list.

Here's a list of all losing no-hit games.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "I drove pretty well for the old girl," said 46-year-old Patty Berg who took a two-stroke lead over young rivals into the second round of the 25th annual Titleholders Golf Tournament today.

Miss Berg was speaking of her three-under-par 69 in the first round Thursday that boosted her into contention for her eighth Titleholders championship. She also was only one stroke away from the single-round record of 68 which she set in 1955 en route to her tournament record of 291.

She took only 24 putts in making four birdies, one bogey and 13 pars over the 3,600-yard Augusta Country Club course.

The 69 put her two strokes ahead of Judy Kimball of Sioux City, Iowa, and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C. Gloria Armstrong of Alameda, Calif., and Jo Ann Prentice of Birmingham, Ala. had par 72s.

Toronto Nips Red Wings to Square Series

Leafs Win on Baun's Goal in Overtime Period

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, accustomed to coming from behind and battling to win important games, have reached that point again.

Toronto extended the Stanley Cup hockey playoff finals to the limit with a 4-3 victory Thursday night on Bob Baun's goal at 1:43 of an overtime session.

A Detroit victory would have given the Red Wings the Stanley Cup.

It was ironic that Baun should score the winning marker, a shot that deflected off the long end of defenseman Bill Gadsby's stick and past the surprised Terry Sawchuk. It was Toronto's first shot of the overtime.

Out on Stretcher

Baun wasn't even supposed to be on the ice, Toronto Manager-Coach Punch Imlach said. Baun had been carried out on a stretcher in the third period after suffering an apparent ankle injury.

"His ankle was badly swollen but he came back soon after the injury and skated a bit," Imlach explained.

"Then in the overtime I was going down the bench and hitting players on the back and all of sudden I saw Baun on the ice. I didn't let him go.

"But after watching him, I figured he was skating well enough so I let him go," he concluded.

"What a way to get beat—one lucky shot that bounces off a stick. Now we have to do it the hard way," lamented Detroit Manager-Coach Sid Abel.

Jaw Fracture Slow to Mend for Carl Willey

Has Lost 8 Pounds

BY JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Carl Willey has a lean and hungry look these days and with good reason. He hasn't eaten anything solid for three weeks.

Willey is the New York Mets' right-handed pitcher who was struck down by a line drive off the bat of Gates Brown of the Detroit Tigers in an exhibition game April 3.

Gates' shot back to the box fractured three bones on the right side of Willey's face and loosened several teeth.

Net result: the Mets lost the service of their best spring pitcher for an indefinite period.

Willey, who had permitted only one run and that unearned in 24 innings of Grapefruit League play, had been expected along with left-hander Al Jackson, to carry the brunt of the pitching load.

Sorely Missed

The Mets have sorely missed Willey. They've had only two complete games in seven starts and have won but one. Tracy Stallard, a right-hander, started against Chicago Thursday and failed to get beyond the third inning as the Cubs thrashed the Mets 5-1.

Carl was in the Mets' clubhouse before Thursday's game, dressed in civilian clothes. He looked more like an undernourished bookkeeper than a healthy robust athlete. Listed at 175 pounds, the 6-footer from Cherryfield, Maine, looked even thinner.

"I've lost eight pounds," he said, "and I feel awful. I can't eat anything solid. The first two weeks, I had only liquids and baby food. I ate through a straw. Now I can have hamburgers and potatoes, but the hamburgers must be ground and the potatoes must be mashed. I still can't chew."

"I'd give anything for a nice, juicy steak right now," he said. "Say about two pounds."

X-rays taken of his jaw last week showed two of the fractures have been mending nicely. The other, high on the cheekbone, has been slower healing. Another examination was due today.

"The doctors say I may be able to do some running in about four or five days," Willey said hopefully. "But they cannot yet give me a day when I may start throwing."

Braves Open 3-Game Set With Dodgers

Bragan's Hopes Include Improved Pitching, Hitting

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee manager Bobby Bragan hopes for better pitching and a return to form of his top three sluggers tonight when the Braves launch a three-game series with the staggering Los Angeles Dodgers at County Stadium.

Right-hander Hank Fischer was named to open against the Dodgers. He will be followed by southpaw Warren Spahn Saturday afternoon and Bob Sadowski Sunday.

"We've scored 43 runs in our first eight games, but have won only four," Bragan said as the Braves enjoyed a schedule break Thursday. "Our pitching has failed us in spots. And I've said right along that pitching will be the key for us."

Bragan insisted he wasn't worried about the slow start of sluggers Felipe Alou, Eddie Mathews and Hank Aaron, the 1-2-3 men in the batting order. However, he admittedly hopes they break out of their slump soon so that others won't have to carry the offensive burden.

Can't Worry

"You can't worry too much about those fellows," Bragan said. "We know what they can do. They'll snap out of it one of these days and be swinging for the fences again."

Alou, obtained from San Francisco in a major trade last December, is hitting only .135 with four singles and a double in 37 trips to the plate. Mathews and Aaron are batting .167 with five hits in 30 official appearances each.

Combined, the trio is hitting only .155 and has just 10 runs batted in. Aaron and Mathews have belted one homer each, while also collecting two doubles apiece.

Fischer, who won his only start, is due to be opposed by Joe Moeller, a young right-hander who has not been involved in any decisions this year.

Chisox' Smith Goes to Mets

NEW YORK (AP) — Charlie Smith, third baseman with the Chicago White Sox of the American League, was purchased Thursday by the New York Mets for an undisclosed price.

The Mets made room on their roster for Smith by sending Larry Burright, a utility infielder, to Buffalo of the International League.

Smith spent most of last season with Indianapolis, then in the International League, where he batted .231. His hits included 25 home runs.

Koufax Hopes To Return To Lineup May 7

Coincidence That Exactly Year Ago He Hurt Shoulder

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Coincidence rapped Dodger pitcher Sandy Koufax a blow, the weight of which still has to be determined.

As of Thursday, Koufax was declared temporarily out of action with an injury aggravated in the first inning of a game against the St. Louis Cardinals the night before. Physicians describe the injury as a muscle strain in the left forearm.

Exactly a year earlier—April 23, 1963—Koufax injured his left shoulder and was sidelined until May 7.

If coincidence refuses to release its hold on Sandy, he would be back in action by May 7, when the club plays Houston here.

The Cardinal's physician, Dr. I. C. Middleman, said Koufax may be idled one or two rotations. If that proves true, he'd be ready in time for Houston.

If the parallel continues past that date—National League look out.

Koufax came back from his rest last year and went on to win 25 games, lose only five and score two triumphs over the Yankees in the World Series.

This time, however, physi-

Tobin Rote Wins AFL Passing Title

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobin Rote, already hard at work preparing for another season as San Diego Chargers' quarterback, learned officially today that he was the American Football League's leading passer in 1963.

Rote completed 170 of 286 passes for a 59.4 per cent average in 1963 and averaged 14.76 yards per completion. Official AFL statistics gave him an effectiveness average of .777 compared to .685 for Tom Flores of Oakland.

Considered in the ratings are yards, touchdowns, completion percentage, interceptions, interception percentage and yards per attempt.

Houston's George Blanda was the busiest passer. He threw 425 and completed 224 for 3,003 yards. He also had 25 interceptions.

Reynolds Seeks Committee

MADISON — The problem of dividing prospective federal aid funds for construction of plant facilities at more than 30 private and public colleges and universities in Wisconsin is perplexing those state officials who have examined it.

Under a congressional authorization voted earlier this year, the national government will make available funds for the subsidization of buildings on private and public campuses. It is presumed the first grants will be forthcoming next year, after actual appropriations are made.

Gov. Reynolds in his Friday

Dividing Aid Funds Perplexes Officials

news conference said he will ask the legislature to set up a special board to channel the aid funds which will be assigned to Wisconsin, expected to amount to slightly more than $4,000,000 a year initially.

Setting Schedule
He commented on inevitable difficulties in working out a construction aid priority schedule that will be satisfactory to all prospective applicants, and especially since the number of proposals is likely to exceed the amounts of money likely to be available for Wisconsin use in the next few years.

There will be at least 18 private institutions eligible for such assistance, he reminded, and probably as many state-supported universities, colleges and branches.

He said he will ask for the creation of a commission of 15, five chosen by the private schools, five representing the state Coordinating committee for Higher Education, and five to be chosen from the general public by the governor.

Had Difficulties
"We have sometimes had our difficulties in getting our state colleges and universities to agree on a construction priorities plan," Reynolds recalled.

"This job will be a very difficult one, and I wish this new commission well."

Atty. Gen. George Thompson earlier had ruled that legislative creation of the new agency is required and that the governor is not empowered to set it up by executive order.

Drive Started To Recruit Alice Entrants

Only Eight Girls Apply for Region 6 Finals at Kaukauna

A concerted drive to recruit more candidates for the Region Six Alice in Dairyland crown has been started.

Entry for the regional contest, slated May 23 at Kaukauna, has been reopened, the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture has informed the Kaukauna Chamber of Commerce. Giving rise to the move is the fact that only eight girls entered the event before the April 18 deadline. What disturbed the agriculture department even more is that none of the entrants are from Kaukauna, the host community.

Deadline Set Back

The entry deadline had already been set back once, from April 15 to 18. This, however, was on a statewide basis. The new May 2 deadline is for Region Six only.

Each of the seven county agents in the region have received letters from the department of agriculture instructing them to search for more candidates, the chamber of commerce was told. The region is made up of Outagamie, Waupaca, Winnebago, Green Lake, Marquette, Portage and Waushara counties.

Chamber of commerce officials are fearful that if interest does not increase, the community may lose the contest by having it incorporated with another region, a chamber spokesman said.

Citizen Unit Backing Bills

People's Lobby Wants Added Action On Sanitary Laws

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON—A state-wide citizens organization devoted to natural resource conservation objectives has asked the reconvened legislature to enact several emergency bills on resource topics.

Among them, said the Wisconsin Council of Resource Development and Conservation, are measures to increase the budget and staff of the State Committee on Water Pollution; "to provide adequate enforcement of the sanitary laws" and enabling emergency legislation to permit the state to order the creation of sanitary districts in localities.

There now are some developing rural areas that otherwise will be unable to resolve their pollution problems, the so-called "people's lobby" told legislators in a letter signed by John Franson Fond du Lac, its secretary.

The Council also demanded that the legislature avoid tampering with the administration of the Outdoors Recreation Act. Pending proposals would add legislators to the inter-agency board which directs operations in the outdoors recreation land buying program.

"Should a surplus in the state budget exist," the organization added, there are worthy bills pending to meet some of the pressing needs of state conservation programs, including appropriation proposals for more aid to county forests, for county forest roads, for surface water research work.

State Funds To be Used for Fish Industry

$25,000 Designated For Recovery of Wisconsin's Markets

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Marketing promotion on behalf of the state commercial fishery will get a $25,000 infusion of state tax funds during the next year.

Both houses of the Legislature have approved, without audible objection from any source, a special fund for the State Department of Resource Development which will be pooled with the industry's efforts to recover and broaden the market for the products of Wisconsin commercial fishing fleets, and notably smoked fish.

The smoked fish market was badly hurt last year as a result of consumer resistance which followed the disclosure from Federal Pure Food Department officials of several cases of botulism poisoning traced to improperly processed smoked fish.

New Code

Since that time the State Department of Agriculture, acting under another legislative directive, has promulgated a new code of standards for the processing of fish and has provided an inspection service for the reassurance of consumers.

The fish promotion program legislation was introduced by a group of state senators whose districts include lake ports, including Sen. Alex Meunier of Sturgeon Bay, representing a district where the impact of the market losses for the fisheries was particularly severe. Gov. Reynolds is expected to sign the bill into law when it reaches him soon.

Furniture Store Remodeling Enters Final Stages of Work

Leath Furniture, 103 E. College Ave., has entered the second phase of a modernization program begun two years ago. Target date for completion is June 1, according to Ted Gillespie, manager.

Changes being made include a new entrance at the rear of the store, opening onto Soldier

Square, and elimination of the side entrance on Oneida Street. The store front revision will combine new glass panels and trim with oriental stucco facings.

Inside changes call for complete redecoration, new lighting and creation of two new shops — a third floor Colonial shop and a carpet shop on the second floor.

Evergreens and azaleas starving?

FIGHT BACK! WITH ORTHO!

ORTHO Evergreen & Azalea Food brings new life, vigor, beauty!

It's not too late to do something about evergreens and azaleas that seem to be starving to death. This weekend you can give 'em a new lease on life... put an end to yellowing leaves, perk up tired foliage, give a surge of growth to scrawny, under-developed plants.

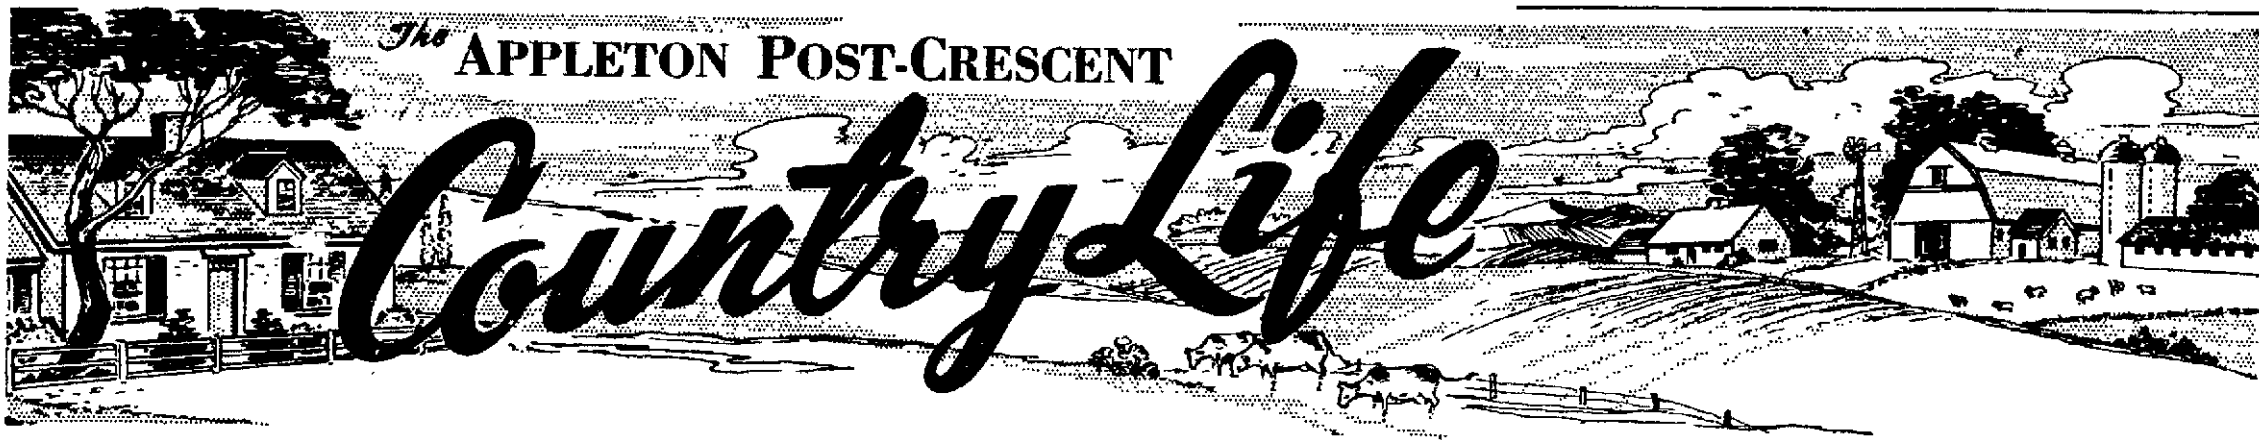

ORTHO Liquid Evergreen & Azalea Food has all the nutrients these acid-loving plants need for vigorous growth, and enough of them to do the job right. Nitrogen, potash, phosphorus. Even zinc, manganese, boron, iron and molybdenum.

It's an easy-to-apply liquid that acts as a "shot in the arm" for rapid growth when you spray it on the foliage, then gives steady, even growth as it is absorbed through the roots.

Pick up a bottle at your favorite garden supplier's. The cost is only about 10¢ a shrub! You'll be amazed at the results!

Wheat Bill Offers Farmers Lure of Guaranteed Dollars

Wheat Price Varies Little

Fox Valley Rates Top National Level Of $1.30 Per Bushel

Price support loan rates for wheat raised in the Fox Valley area vary only three cents among the five counties.

All are above the national support average of $1.30 a bushel for grain raised under provisions of the new bill.

Tied for the top support rate of $1.39 a bushel are Calumet and Winnebago counties. The average wheat yield per acre in the two counties is 35.1 bushels, and 35 bushels, respectively.

Outagamie County growers, who average 33.2 bushels per acre, will be offered loan support at the rate of $1.38. In Wau-paca, where the yield averages 23.7 bushels, the rate of support is $1.36. Brown County growers can expect 31.5 bushels to the acre and a $1.37 rate per bushel.

Signups for the 1964 wheat bill begin May 1 and end May 15.

Fox Valley Farmers Get Off to Late Start on Seeding, Field Work

Agents in 4 Counties Give Mixed Reports on Progress

Farmers are getting on the land for spring planting a little behind schedule in the Fox Valley area.

Agricultural and farm management agents in Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet and Wau-paca counties gave mixed reports at mid-week on progress made in seeding small grains, primarily oats. Some said work was getting started while others said more than half the crop was in the ground in their counties.

Warm, dry days last week signaled the beginning of the spring field work. Farmers got a good start, and in some instances, completed this portion of the seeding before the area was hit by some welcome rainfall.

No new crop trends or seeding practices were reported but some which were introduced recently gained new followers.

New Variety

The star newcomer to the grain list was Lodi, available for the first time this year for general planting. Donald Tripp, Winnebago County farm management agent, and Orrin Meyer, Calumet County agent, said there was a big demand for Lodi from certified seed dealers this year.

Another practice coming into its own is bulk fertilizer spreading. Applying blended fertilizers to the land and working it in has been proven superior to the combination grain-fertilizer drills, both in convenience of application and in effectiveness. All agents reported a gradual reduction in oats acreage, in favor of more ripe corn for a feed grain.

Meyer reported that at mid-week in Calumet County only about 10 per cent of the anticipated oat acreage had been seeded. Farmers got a late start, he said. The first oats was sown April 16 this compared with April 1 a year ago.

He expected, however, that given good weather, the seeding would be completed early next week.

May Boost Acreage of Valley Farms

The lure of guaranteed dollars offered by the new voluntary wheat bill may have some reverse effects in the Fox Valley area where acreage allotments are small.

Many farmers who might otherwise have ignored the crop entirely this year without the assurance of high support prices, may change their minds. This was the offhand opinion of some Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) officials, but they were quick to add that the program should have a desirable production cutting effect in the major acreage allotments are huge.

Wheat Bill Offers Lure Of Guaranteed Dollars

gram for 1964 is four-fold. It offers payments for diverting wheat acres to conservation uses, price supports through loans and purchases, cashable certificates for wheat consumed domestically, and cashable certificates for wheat to be exported.

Farmers with a wheat base have already received their acreage allotment notices. The signup period is May 1-15 at county ASCS offices.

One of the first requirements of the wheat bill is for the grower to divert an acreage equal to at least 11.1 per cent of his allotment to approved conserving uses. For this he will be repaid at the rate of 20 per cent of the county support rate times the predetermined production of his farm in bushels.

Outagamie County

In Outagamie County, for example, where the support loan rate is $1.38 a bushel, the farmer with a 30 bushel to the acre production index would receive $3.28 for each acre of his allotment he diverted to approved conservation uses.

He may divert a maximum of 20 per cent of his allotted acres, or in the case of small allotments, a total of 15 acres.

Then come the market allocations and the cashable certificates. The grower's market allocation amounts to 90 per cent of his allotment multiplied by his predetermined average yield.

An average Fox Valley farmer may have a 30-acre allotment and a 30-bushel to the acre average yield. His marketing allocation would be 710 bushels.

Cash Certificates

Half of these bushels, 360, would qualify for cashable domestic marketing certificates which are valued at 70 cents a bushel or a total of $252. The remaining 360 bushels of the marketing allocation qualify for export certificates valued at 25 cents a bushel or $90.

The grower will be able to cash by turning them in at his county ASCS office.

He is then left with three alternatives on the disposal of his wheat. He can sell it on the open market for whatever it brings him, consume it on his farm as cattle feed or take out a price support loan. County loan rates vary, but the national average is $1.30 a bushel.

The wheat would then become the property of the government when the farmer fails to redeem the loan.

PARTIAL HEDGE

Participation is a partial hedge against crop failure. The grower is entitled the certificates on his entire market allocation even if his land fails to come anywhere near the average production.

If the 30-bushel-to-the-acre farm produces only 10 bushels an acre, the grower still gets the full amount of the certiates. His only loss would be less grain to market or borrow against.

Growers electing to divert more than the minimum percentage of acres from wheat are eligible for the more valuable 70 cent a bushel certificates on the full number of bushels available to them on their original allotment. The 25 cent a bushel certificates apply to the remaining allocation.

Other rulings on diversion to substitute crops affect the diversion payment rate and complete information is available at the ASCS offices.

Study by Mail Has Many Purposes and Advantages

BY DR. ROGER W. AXFORD
For The Associated Press
"Correspondence study is essentially tutorial instruction through the mails" says Charles A. Wedemeyer, Director of the Correspondence Instruction Program of the University of Wisconsin.

Fifth of a Series.

Wedemeyer heads the oldest and one of the largest University Correspondence Study operations in the world. A recent report called "Person to Person" says, "Twelve thousand students go to a great university, as it goes to them throughout the world by way of University of Wisconsin correspondence instruction." Who takes what courses to accomplish what goals for "mail box students?"

Credits Sought
A total of 4,110 students seek university or high school credit; 2,018 students in high schools in Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Iowa use courses (to supplement their curricula, assist slow students, or help gifted students work ahead); 2,169 adults who want to complete their high school education; 1,692 teachers, librarians, businessmen, and technicians who want "in-service training"; 180 aliens who need preparation for naturalization; 147 homebound, hospitalized or imprisoned; 83 extension Center students needing supplementary courses; 976 men and women in the armed forces taking UW courses; and 46 veterans continuing readjustment education. Students range in age from 12 to 71.

55 Courses
About 450 courses are now available through instruction by mail, individual instruction in which the student is in direct contact with an instructor by correspondence. Last year the University of Chicago decided to abandon the traditional extension function of correspondence study.

The University of Wisconsin was selected to carry on 55 of its courses, and is now teaching them. Each lesson is given in individual attention by those who administer the program.

Machine grading, so characteristic of some commercial correspondence schools is frowned upon by the University's Correspondence Study Department.

Wisconsin pioneered in this area of teaching by mail. Even before 1900 UW faculty members were corresponding with students around the state who found it impossible to come to the campus. Some were too poor or had to help on the farm.

Teaching by mail has broken the distance barrier. It was in 1906 that President Charles Van Hise decided more service should be given to the citizens off the campus, and he called Professor William H. Lighty to organize a correspondence department.

Available by Mail
By 1907, more than two hundred courses had been listed as available by mail. Educational leaders came to the university campus from all over the world to study the methods developed by Wisconsin, and to duplicate the procedure for their own countries.

Scholars came from Australia, Germany, Denmark, Sweden, Canada, Venezuela, India, Africa, Thailand, Japan and England to examine the organization of this department.

The United States Armed Forces Institute uses the knowledge and some of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin to provide instruction to members of the military services throughout the world. USAFI courses are taught by the University of Wisconsin under contract to more than 100,000 servicemen. Not all of the faculty members are located on the Madison campus. Five hundred thousand correspondence lessons were read, commented upon, graded, and returned last year.

Many Advantages
Study at your own time and pace is one advantage of study by mail. Wedemeyer emphasizes three characteristics of this form of instruction: the individual relationship between student and instructor; the broad and specialized offerings taught by experts in the subject; and continuing research and experimentation in correspondence instruction methodology.

Your university is as near as your mailbox. New courses are being developed to meet the demands of new technology. Old courses are constantly being revised.

If you decide this method is for you, contact your local university representative or write directly to the Correspondence Instruction Program of the University - Madison. There are no salesmen. And by intention, "Study by Mail" is non-profit.

"WE SERVE TO SERVE AGAIN"

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

SHOULD YOU TRY TO CHANGE A PERSON AFTER MARRIAGE?
YES ☐ NO ☐

No. If there's some little thing he does that is annoying, you might be able to get him to change without much trouble. But if it's something basic, better let it alone. Attempts to change others may result in strong resentments or, if you're successful, he may be much worse than he was. The words of the old song, "Take me as I am or leave me be," are usually sound. If you can't take him the way he is, don't take him at all. If you have any doubts about it, get the answers by reading our valuable booklet, "Facing the Facts of Married Life." To get your copy, send 20 cents and a stamped, return envelope to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Working wives help the economy.
True _____ False _____
True. Families with two wage-earners spend much more money than do those where only the husband works. Data compiled by the National Industrial Conference Board shows that the average family, in which both husband and wife work, spends 40 per cent more than the one-earner family on clothing, house furnishings and appliances. It spends one-third more on recreation and automobiles, and 20 per cent more on food and medical care. Only shelter (rent, about the same in families with non-working and working wives.

Mental Illness is America's No. 1 Health Problem! It can strike anyone, anywhere! If a member of your family became mentally disturbed, would you know what to do? To find out, send for "When Mental Illness Strikes Your Family," a helpful, authoritative booklet, written in easy-to-read style. It's yours for 25 cents and your name and address. Address: "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Natural Events' Timing Talks Set

The state's phenologists are meeting here May 1 to discuss latest discoveries on timing of natural events and their relation to weather and climate.

Research programs in phenology explore the relationships of seasonal events to each other and their usefulness for predicting a season's earliness or productivity, says Mac Dana, current vice president of the Wisconsin Phenological Society. For example, date of lilac flowering might be a good indicator of earliness of the corn harvest.

Phenological topics up for discussion at this meeting are temperature as it relates to fish spawning activity; the phenology of tooth development in deer; dates of spring arrival in a tamarack swamp; seasonal sequences of sawfly species on jack pine and others.

The public is welcome to attend the meeting at the University of Wisconsin—Wausau Center.

Seek to Exempt State's World's Fair Cheese From Property Taxes

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A cheese district legislative representative wants to be sure that this state's prize exhibit at the New York World's Fair won't be troubled by the attentions of the tax assessor.

A bill by Assemblyman Nitschke of Dodge County would grant a property tax exemption to the "world's largest cheese," which is on display at the New York fairgrounds in the Wisconsin pavilion.

The exhibit sponsored by the Wisconsin Cheesemakers Association, would be classified as a "semi-state enterprise," and thus eligible to a tax exemption under the proposal.

Registered Herds In Valley Hit Top Milk Marks

Registered Holstein herds in the Fox Valley have established new lactation averages for milk and butterfat.

The official herd production averages, reported by the Holstein Friesian Association of America are:

John H. Bartlett, Oshkosh, has 24 completed production records averaging 16,731 pounds of milk and 605 pounds of butterfat.

Fowler Farms, Oshkosh, has 19 completed production records averaging 14,996 pounds of milk and 529 pounds of butterfat.

Marvin Krahn, Seymour, has 33 completed production records averaging 13,944 pounds of milk and 523 pounds of butterfat.

To provide a uniform basis for comparison of registered Holstein herds, lactation averages are reported on the industry standard, two-milkings-a-day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis.

The University of Wisconsin supervised the sampling and production testing procedures in herd testing programs of the national Holstein association.

They will be host to a U.S. IFYE student this summer.

Inadequate Soil Moisture as Farmers Start Spring Work

MADISON (AP)— Wisconsin soil moisture is substantially less than adequate as farmers start their new crop season, the Federal-State crop and weather summary noted today.

Spring work is off to a slow start. In the northern third of the state there has been little or no field work. Recent snow left fields too soft.

In the central third activity is starting. In southern counties spring plowing is about 10 per cent completed.

"Generally, throughout the state," the summary said, "field work is well behind last year's exceptionally fast get-away and is somewhat slower than the average timing."

Moisture Lacking
Surface soil moisture was described as about as dry as at this time a year ago. In some areas sub-soil moisture is entirely lacking.

"Threat of severe drought will hang over this season as it did in 1963," the report warned.

This outlook to mid-May was offered:

"Temperatures are predicted to average in the low 50s in the south and high 40s in the north. Precipitation is expected to total above average, greater than 3½ inches in the south and 3 in the north."

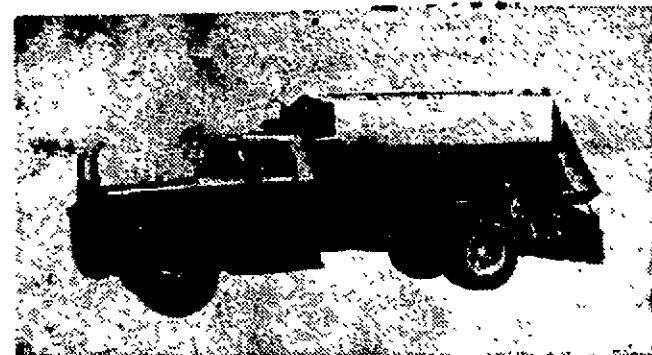

Saddle Club Adopts New Constitution

A new constitution with a strict membership clause has been adopted by the Tri-County Saddle Horse Association at its April meeting.

It stipulates that members who have not paid dues by the March meeting will forfeit membership.

Club directors plan to attend the Northeastern Pleasure Horse Association meeting at Wayside. Plans for the approaching show season will be set.

Classes for the club's June show were discussed.

Youth Unit Has Money Study

Members of the Outagamie County Older Youth heard a talk on money management at the group's last meeting.

Giving the lecture was Russell Luckow, Outagamie County farm management agent. It was the first of a series. A film on the subject is slated for the group's meeting Monday at the Grand Chute Town Hall.

Girls have decided to assist at the "Alice in Dairyland" regional contest at Kaukauna in May.

Robert Paltzer reported on the state youth convention at Fond du Lac.

Late Start on Spring Work in Calumet will remain fairly steady, he said.

"Progress has been real good," said Russell Luckow, Outagamie farm management agent. He estimated that about two-thirds to three-fourths of the county's 50,000 to 55,000 acre crop was in the ground at mid-week with many farmers already finished sowing.

More Plants

"We are still a little short of moisture," he commented.

Speaking for Winnebago County, Tripp said he expected interest in soybeans as a cash crop to level off this year.

He attributed the establishment of more blending plants for the increased use of bulk fertilizer.

About half of Winnebago's 42,000-acre oats crop had been seeded.

Joe Walker, Waupaca County agent, said farmers in his area were just getting started on the spring field work in "good shape." Work is a little behind schedule because of the weather. The county has an average of about 45,000 acres of oats a year.

Some of Waupaca's potato growers are getting seed into the ground, Walker said. They are hoping to catch the high prices usually afforded by an early market. Waupaca normally produces about 2,000 acres of potatoes.

Career Session at OSC Attracts 60 Educators

Employment Opportunities in Agriculture, Home Economics Are Studied by Delegates

OSHKOSH — Approximately 60 school guidance counselors, administrators, agricultural and home economics instructors met Tuesday afternoon for an informal career session at Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh.

Purpose of the meeting was to share school programs in the guidance field and each school present gave a brief report of its current programs, strengths, weaknesses, and future plans. Those present also had an opportunity to learn about career opportunities in agriculture, agribusiness, and the broad field of home economics from three specialists of the University of Wisconsin.

Telling this story were Mrs. Viola Wilkinson, child development and family relationship specialist; Frank Wilkinson, director, Farm Short Course, and Dr. George Sledge, assistant to the dean, College of Agriculture.

Big Increase

Dr. Sledge pointed out that the largest increase in occupations in the future will be in the area of positions requiring most education and training. He said while dollars and cents are not the only way of measuring accomplishments in life, there is a relationship with earning power and educational attainments. A high school graduate can expect to earn $215,000 in his lifetime and a college graduate, $317,000.

By 1970 we expect a 46 per cent increase in the number of workers under 25 years of age. The number of 18 year olds will increase more than 50 per cent in the next five years. Sledge pointed out that two out of every five people employed in the U.S. today work in some phase of agriculture. He said that we need 15,000 college graduates in agriculture and home economics each year and yet the land grant colleges are only turning out 2,500.

Major Areas

He listed the major areas of agriculture and discussed opportunities under each. These areas are education, communications, industry, research, technical services, farming, conservation and recreation. It is estimated that less than one-third of the farm born boys will have the opportunity of actually farming for themselves. Other areas of agriculture can well absorb the other two areas.

Viola Wilkinson discussed opportunities in home economics. She said home economics is rapidly moving away from the concept of cooking, and sewing. Some of the areas Mrs. Wilkinson spoke about are child development, family economics, foods, housing, textiles and clothings, consumer education, applied art in home decoration and others.

She said the Peace Corp today is crying for home economists as an example of a new field. In the area of community service, positions exist in private and public welfare agencies, industry, and nutritional consultants.

Broad Area

Under the broad area of education, there are 3,000 county home economics agent positions available in the U.S. plus nursery school opportunities and 450 colleges to staff. Many home economists are employed in the broad area of communications. Specialists in the foods areas are in demand such as persons working in the area of institutional feeding. Public eating places are interested in home economists because more and more people are eating out today.

Frank Wilkinson, Director of the Farm Short Course, spoke about the opportunities for young men not having a four-year college degree. He says industry is vitally interested in young men who have developed at least some skills. Industry will further train them for their respective jobs. He listed the courses offered at the farm short course. The meeting was organized by the County Extension Service.

Shawano Dairy Cooperative Establishes Sales Record

SHAWANO — Consolidated only through owning your own Badger Cooperative, with some 3,400 members and 10 processing plants, set a new sales record of $33.8 million last year, members learned at the group's annual meeting here Saturday.

Making the report was Edmend Engebretsen, Gillett, president of the cooperative for the past 13 years. The dairy complex handled some 678 million pounds of milk during the year, an increase of 2.9 per cent over the previous year.

George Ruppel, general manager of the cooperative, reported on progress in improving the group's marketing position. Real marketing security comes only through owning your own operations and plants, he said.

Seymour Cow Cited by Group

One Fox Valley area cow was among the eight in the state cited by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America for lifetime food production careers.

Cherrybold Mooie Polly, owned by Hilmer Mueller and Son, Seymour, has compiled a lifetime total of 151,797 pounds of milk and 6,186 pounds of butterfat.

This is approximately six times the lifetime output of the average U.S. cow.

Legislature Gets Ready to Adjourn Session Until Fall

Tax Relief for Citizens of Retirement Age Up for Action

MADISON (AP)—The Republican controlled Assembly was apparently ready today to grant about $9 million a year in property tax relief to Wisconsin residents over 65 and to turn back Democratic attempts to expand the GOP plan to about $17 million a year.

In the first two test ballots on the bill, Republicans defeated on party line votes of 50-44 amendments that would have extended relief to renters and liberalized the tax cut formula.

The property tax relief for the elderly is a major item of business before lawmakers recess the session until November.

The recess resolution introduced in the Senate Thursday set Nov. 9 as the date to reconvene and listed three areas of legislation for continued attention in the interim.

Special Study Groups

The studies were assigned to special committees of the Legislative Council. The subjects are highway safety, accelerated conservation land purchases, and the state's financial situation.

A self-imposed law that made the legislators ineligible for expense money kept the lawmakers hustling to wind up the spring meeting that began April 13.

The pace picked up even more when the GOP majorities failed Wednesday to enact a legislative reapportionment bill over the veto of Reynolds.

In action Thursday, the Assembly sustained Reynolds' veto of a bill that would have extended for 10 years leases held by the owners of 86 cottages on Devil's Lake. The vote was 53-30. The veto had been overridden by the Senate earlier.

Double Student Loan Fund
Passed and sent to the Senate was a bill that increases from $5 million to $10 million the amount of state money available for student loans.

And the Assembly completed legislative action on a bill to allow county boards to control access to county trunk highways.

Senate Democrats made another attempt to get action on a pair of appointments by the governor. But the Republican majority kept the nominations of Sens. Richard Zaborski, D-Milwaukee, and J.W. Barnstable of Appleton in committee. Zaborski had been named to the Public Service Commission and Barnstable to the State Board of Examiners in Chiropractic. The appointments require Senate confirmation.

Russia Pledges Castro Support If U. S. Attacks

MOSCOW (AP) — Izvestia declared today the Soviet Union will side with Cuba if the controversy about U.S. reconnaissance flights leads to "a treacherous attack" on that island nation.

The U.S. military flights over Cuba were denounced as violations of sovereign rights of an independent state, the U.N. charter and "generally recognized standards of international law."

The Soviet government newspaper declared in an article signed by "Commentator," which means someone in high authority, that Cuba has an inalienable right "to take the necessary measures to put an end to the intrusions."

"Gentlemen, do not try to intimidate us," it said. "If Cuba is subjected to a treacherous attack, the Soviet Union will not put up with it and will side with Cuba. It has declared this before and confirms this now."

Youthful Admirers Imperil Johnsons on 'Poverty' Trip

President Johnson, in South Bend today, finds himself surrounded on all sides by people as he dismounts from the helicopter shown in background. The president and Mrs. Johnson are beginning a four-state 'poverty tour' into the states of Pennsylvania,

Kentucky and West Virginia. At the South Bend landing field the president was grim for a moment when he was lost from security agents, but regained his smile and assurance when he was free of the crush of the crowd. (AP Wirephoto)

Swept Into Turmoil at South Bend

SOUTH BEND Ind. (AP) — President and Mrs. Johnson were mobbed in an all-engulfing crowd of school children as they arrived today at South Bend to begin a four-state "poverty tour."

Neither the President nor the First Lady was injured in the wild melee as well-wishers crushed around them from all sides. However, several of the enthusiastic greeters were carried out of the crowd and given first aid.

After a fleet of three presidential helicopters landed outside a retraining school for unemployed workers, thousands of school children who had been released from classes swarmed over the landing field.

Try to Clear Path
Both the President and Mrs. Johnson were buffeted about and swept along by the crowd despite the determined efforts of Secret Service agents and police.

After about five minutes, Johnson lost his ready grin and looked grim as security men tried to clear a way through the press of humanity.

Secret Service agents waved for police reinforcements and had difficulty steering the President toward the entrance to the field. The pressure of the crowd insistently swept the presidential party away from its destination.

Resume Shaking Hand
Once Johnson was free of the crush, however, his grin reappeared and he began a more normal hand-shaking tour, greeting well-wishers penned up behind fences and police barricades.

Mrs. Johnson was the first to emerge from the crowd. She was able to reach the exit fairly easily because most of the shrieking youngsters did not recognize her and moved instead toward her husband.

The First Lady said later of the crowd, "There's nothing depressing about them. There's nothing down-hearted about them."

The President and Mrs. Johnson toured the classrooms in the Lulu Cline Vocational R-

Jury Trial Proposal In Civil Rights Cases May Ease Deadlock

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leadership-sponsored jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill sparked hopes today of cracking the Senate's impasse over the measure.

Sens. Mike Mansfield and Everett M. Dirksen, the Democratic and Republican leaders, prepared to introduce the amendment as the Senate debate entered its 39th day.

They planned to present it as a substitute for one offered earlier by Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., acting for Southern foes of the legislation.

The efforts to resolve the jury trial issue were only part of the moves afoot to work out compromises and get the civil rights bill off dead center.

Nuclear Plants Considered for Civilian Needs

Conversion Studied To Provide Public Electric Power

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nuclear explosives plants shut down by President Johnson's cutback in plutonium production may be converted into huge civilian electric power plants.

The Atomic Energy Commission considers the conversion to be technically feasible and has invited utility firms to undertake studies, at their own expense, of the economic and engineering problems involved.

Two reactors soon to be withdrawn from producing plutonium — one at AEC's Hanford, Wash., installation and the other at Savannah River, S.C. — have been offered for commercial power generation.

Record Capacity
An AEC official said the two have the capability of delivering "many hundreds of megawatts" of electric power — that is, many hundreds of millions of watts — if the shift to peaceful use can be carried through.

This would suggest a capacity larger than any of the 13 nuclear plants now producing commercial power.

At Savannah River, one group of 11 Southern utility companies has signed an agreement with AEC to invest $300,000 to $400,000 in studying the feasibility of taking over the heavy-water type reactor scheduled to be shut down about July 1.

7 Men Arrested in Burglary Series

RACINE (AP) — Seven men were held Thursday on burglary charges which police said stemmed from a series of thefts in communities from Waukegan, Ill., to Sheboygan.

Authorities said a warrant had been issued for an eighth member of the group.

Police said bond of $10,000 each had been set for five of the men, Daniel Manske, 35; his brother, Ralph, 35, and Michael Hayes, 28, all of Milwaukee, and Ralph Williams, 35, and Robert Kisten, 35, both of Racine.

Bond was set at $2,000 for Lawrence Gales, 35, of Milwaukee and $1,000 for Randall Nix, 36, of Milwaukee.

Pair Flees From Burning Home

PORTAGE (AP) — A Portage couple escaped through a window as fire roared through their home this morning. The blaze gutted the two-story frame building with a loss estimated unofficially at more than $10,000.

Mrs. Willis Schmidt said she was awakened by the smell of smoke at about 5 a.m. Within a matter of seconds the house burst into flames and she and her husband just had time to smash a window and get out.

Didn't Earn Extra Pay, 3 Judges Told

KENOSHA (AP) — A circuit judge and two Kenosha County judges were told by County Clerk Richard Lindgren Thursday that they are not entitled to supplementary salaries they have been receiving.

They are Circuit Judge Harold Bode and county Judges Urban Zeivers and Harry Carlson, whose basic salaries will not be affected.

Lindgren said he notified the judges of the decision after a conference with Dist. Atty. Joseph B. Molinaro. He said that Molinaro will decide if the judges will have to return the supplementary salaries given them.

He added that a recent Wisconsin Supreme Court decision stated that supplementary salaries paid by counties to judges are not legal expenditures.

Judge Bode was given $2,500 annually, starting last January, as a supplementary salary with Kenosha County paying two-thirds and Walworth County one-third of the amount. It was not determined immediately how much in supplementary salary has been paid to the county judges. Lindgren said they have been given supplementary salaries since 1962.

McNamara Announces 63 Actions To Reduce Military Installations

Declares Savings Will be About $68 Million Yearly

Work Will Start Monday on New Rail Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Railroad management and union negotiators will meet with federal mediators at the Labor Department Monday to start writing a detailed contract which will formally end one of the nation's longest and most complex labor disputes.

Both sides planned a weekend recess after nearly two weeks of intensive White House talks which ended in an agreement late Wednesday, averting a nationwide strike which had been scheduled for a minute after midnight tonight.

In a White House ceremony Thursday, President Johnson congratulated the negotiators and urged both sides to "get back to the railroads and go to work" so both labor and management can prosper.

It will take about a week to draw up the contract, and no difficulties are expected.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today announced 63 new actions closing or reducing military bases, depots and arsenals and consolidating offices. He estimated savings at $68 million a year.

McNamara said slicing away at least eight unneeded facilities, scaling down 14 others, combining separate contract monitoring offices in 29 cities, and other actions would yield savings "without in anyway reducing military effectiveness."

These latest moves in a three-year economy drive, now embraced by President Johnson, bring the number of bases ordered closed or reduced to more than 500.

81,600 Jobs Involved
When added to those other moves, the Pentagon said, the 63 new actions will:

Save $551 million a year in operating costs.

Eliminate 81,600 civilian jobs and military assignments. Of these 10,056 will drop away as a result of today's actions.

Release 696,000 acres of real estate for nondefense use.

Make available 61 industrial plants for sale to American business.

Fifty-five of the new actions announced by McNamara at a news conference affect military activities in 29 states.

Offices to be Merged
The primary emphasis is on consolidating — one to a city — the separate contract supervision offices maintained by the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Supply Agency in many places. That is to be done in two years.

The combining of these offices in 29 cities is expected to lop off 1,800 workers and save $18.8 million a year.

For the time being at least, the Navy's 11 shipyards, major Air Force and Army bases were left untouched.

Politics Involved
The other eight actions — worth $21 million a year in savings — involve unspecified installations overseas. What will happen to them was left open, pending consultation with European and Western Hemisphere governments concerned.

No NATO forces are affected. The installations to be closed

Border Clash Avoided by India, China

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India and Communist China were dangerously close to a clash over Bhutan earlier this month, it was learned today, and both nations reportedly moved troops to jump off positions.

Informed sources said both sides still appear ready to counter—with troops if necessary—any attempt by the other to take advantage of the internal political turmoil in the Himalayan buffer state between northeast India and Tibet.

However, Indian aerial reconnaissance indicates the Chinese have not moved across the Tibet-Bhutan border, informants said, and Indian troops have stood fast.

The mountain passes leading south out of Bhutan are gateways to eastern India, and Indian military men say they are essential to India's defense. For the same reason, Communist China is anxious to control the passes.

Peking's Views May Change

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communist China faces at least two major crises of leadership in the next 10 or 15 years as its aging rulers relinquish power to younger men, according to U.S. intelligence studies on once-secret Chinese military documents.

U.S. officials believe the changes that will come about in these crises may profoundly alter Red China's attitude toward the outside world, including the United States.

Stalemate Policy
Two other points which stand out in the intelligence reports are: 1. Red China under the leadership of Mao Tse-tung is following a strategy of stalemate toward the United States, while it concentrates on promoting Red revolutionary movements in underdeveloped countries, particularly in Africa.

2. The Chinese Reds are devoting considerable resources to a program for developing atomic weapons though one of their military leaders estimated in January 1961 that if they got into a big war three to five years from then they would still have to rely on conventional weapons. Meanwhile, the Communist party leaders take the position, according to one of the previously secret documents, that "although the material atomic bomb is important, the spiritual atomic bomb is more important"—apparently a statement of faith in their own Communist world view.

The documents make clear that the Red Chinese leaders believe they cannot be defeated by long-range nuclear weapons—such as U.S. missiles—and if they were invaded they would rely on their vast military manpower. One estimate is that in April 1961 there were supposed to be 200 million armed and organized militiamen.

These conclusions and estimates about Red Chinese policy and strength are set forth in research studies prepared for the State Department's Bureau of Intelligence and Research and based on military papers dealing with both military and political issues which were circulated in Red China in 1961.

In testimony released today, Thomas L. Hughes, State Department intelligence chief, told a House Appropriations subcommittee that "the new materials gave us a look at the dark side of the moon in Communist China."

Analyzed by Experts
Hughes also described the documents—obtained in an undisclosed manner—as "uniquely valuable" to the United States in assessing Chinese Communist strategy and tactics and in shaping U.S. foreign policy.

The Red Chinese secret papers were analyzed by various Chinese language experts. They Formal approval was given Thursday to a revised Outagamie County zoning ordinance by the county board. Supervisors passed the resolution 49-0.

Low Bids for FVL Expansion Total $387,765

Board Will Meet Thursday to Decide Extent of Project

Low bids for two proposed additions to Fox Valley Lutheran High School, opened Tuesday by the building committee, total $387,765.

The general board of the Fox Valley Lutheran High School Federation, made up of representatives of the 19 member congregations, will meet Thursday to consider the bids and decide whether to proceed with all, part or none of the building program.

Low bids fell below the estimated cost of $400,000 for the additions and related remodeling. High bids for the project totaled $442,840.

Low bidders are A. H. Nimmer Construction Co., Kaukauna, general construction, $245,715; R. Wenzel Plumbing and Heating Co., Appleton, $58,733 for heating, $28,363 for plumbing, and a combined bid for heating and plumbing of $86,850; and Stephenson Electric Co., Appleton, $55,200 for electrical work.

There were 11 bidders for general construction, five for heating, six for plumbing and four for electrical work.

The two proposed additions, designed by Raymond LeVe and Associates, include a classroom wing to the north of the present building and a two-story addition including a music suite, cafeteria, kitchen and locker room, to the east of the auditorium wing. The present cafeteria area would be remodeled.

Construction of the additions would take about one year. If the general board approves construction, school officials hope several rooms, possibly the library and study hall in the new classroom wing, can be completed before next fall.

Several towns have already passed the ordinance, and several more have indicated they intend to do so.

Driving records of some Outagamie County traffic policemen were criticized Thursday by Supvs. Eugene Kloes (Appleton 4), Al Fischer (Appleton 14) and Arthur Hoolihan (Appleton 11).

They claimed the department driving safety record was giving the county high insurance rates.

'Pure Negligence'

Hoolihan said "at least two accidents by policemen during their off-duty hours were pure negligence."

Kloes said, "What do you do with a man who runs through a spotlight and causes an accident? Do you send him out the next day to instruct children on how to cross streets safely?"

Criticism came as a result of a traffic police committee report listing 20 accidents which traffic police and sheriff's department employees were involved in.

Heenan said damages from 17 of the accidents are being recovered from the county's insurance carrier.

Heenan also pointed out that Kloes, Fischer and Hoolihan were exaggerating the seriousness of the accidents.

Accident Causes

He listed causes of the accidents as: a tree branch dropping on a car, a car's surface being pitted by falling stones from a dump truck, two cats hit by running deer, a broken windshield, a car hitting a parked trailer, an accident at an arterial crossing, a pistol discharging causing a bullet hole in a squad car roof, and others.

Supv. George Greisch (Appleton 3) defended the police force. "When you consider the amount of miles traveled by all the police cars, the amount of accidents is very small and they're mostly minor. Their record is one we all can be very proud of."

Fischer disagreed, saying his record was a bad one "and traffic officers should be models to everyone in the community."

By a voice vote, the committee's report was received and placed on file.

A Barn Owned by Emery Spiegleberg, located on a town road northeast of Zittau in Winnebago County, was destroyed in a blaze reported to the Clayton-Winchester volunteer fire department about 9:45 p.m. Thursday. A shed attached to the L-shaped barn, a tractor and other machinery were also destroyed in the fire. No cattle were in the barn at the time, according to fire department officials. Outagamie Court Orders Welfare Department Study of Glue Sniffing

Shipping Charge Boost Asked to Cover Wage Hike

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — To cover the cost of driver wage increases contracted for 1965 and 1966, Wisconsin intrastate truckers have asked the Public Service Commission to approve an increase in charges to shippers.

The Wisconsin Motor Carriers Association said the adjustments asked would provide an immediate increase in the minimum rate for single line and joint line service of 50 cents and a 2 per cent raise in all other rates and charges.

Effective Feb. 1, 1965, minimum charges would be increased 30 cents more, and on Feb. 1, 1966, a further increase of 40 cents would be imposed to the minimum rates, assuming there is no further expense increase to the carriers in the interim. If there are additional wage adjustments, they will be reflected in proposals for further rate increases, it was said.

Probe Sought After Appleton Youths Admit They Inhaled Fumes of Adhesive

A court-ordered study of the dangers of glue sniffing, to include testimony from local doctors, will be undertaken this week by the Outagamie County Welfare Department.

The study comes after two Appleton junior high school students admitted Monday in County Juvenile Court they had attempted the stunt on several occasions in December and early this year.

Meanwhile, Appleton police are continuing an investigation into the glue sniffing incidents and testimony Monday by Juvenile Officer David Young showed more youths may be involved.

Broken Homes

The youths, both 14, Monday were placed under supervision of the welfare department for one year. If during that time they are not involved in any disturbances, juvenile action against them will be dismissed.

Both youths, who come from broken homes, admitted they used the glue in a plastic breathing bag in their own homes while their mothers were away at work. One youth sniffed glue on four occasions, the other twice.

The idea, the youths said, came from several companions who discussed glue sniffing after they learned how to do it while in confinement in Wales School for Boys.

County Judge Raymond P. Dohr, Juvenile Court judge, ordered the welfare department to collect information on how widespread glue sniffing is and how dangerous it can be. The department is expected to collect testimony from two doctors who examined the youths after they were discovered sniffing glue.

Lack Information

Judge Dohr said he was at a loss as to what disposition to impose upon the youths because of a lack of information pertaining to glue sniffing. The cases are the first two to come before a county court, although other cities have experienced the problem for a number of years.

Judge Dohr said if the welfare department study showed that glue sniffing was becoming a "fad" and was a danger to youths, the welfare department report should contain some recommendations on limiting the sale of the glue.

Jays Rally for 9-8 Decision Over Wolves

Score Deciding Run on Error in Last of Seventh

MENASHA — Menasha picked itself up from off the floor to score six runs in the sixth inning and a tie-breaking marker in the seventh for a 9-8 triumph over Winnebago here Thursday afternoon.

The victory was the first in four starts for the Jays. All have been one-run decisions. They were scheduled to open Mid-Eastern Conference play at Kimberly this afternoon.

The Menashans scored twice in the first inning on two walks, Morry Quick's double and a sacrifice and then were blanked until the sixth. Meanwhile, the Wolves pushed across one marker in the first and collected seven in the third. Ed Ochowicz and Jim Nickel belted homers.

Hits by Mike LeRoy, Bob Wendt and Dick Sorensen, three walks and four Winnebago errors produced six runs in the sixth. The potential lead run was cut down on an attempted theft of home.

Dave Johnson walked to open the Bluejays' seventh. Wendt was safe on a fielder's choice when the throw reached second base too late on his hunt. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Dennis Hughes was given an intentional walk to load the sacks.

Dick Sorensen grounded to first and Johnson was forced at the plate but in the haste for a double play, the throw from the plate to third went into left field and Wendt scored with the winning run.

Freshman Jack Mauthe and Johnson, a sophomore, shared the Menasha mound duties with Johnson getting the win. Winnebago only had one base runner in the last four innings and it was on an error.

Mike Schroll hurled six innings for Winnebago and LeRoy Gilson worked the seventh and took the loss.

The victory may have been costly for the Jays since pitcher-outfielder Mike Vindhurst was hit on the knuckles of his right hand early in the game and was forced to leave.

The box score:

WINNEBAGO (107 000 0-8). Wiesner 3-2-1, Craig 2-1-0, Balfinger 4-1-1, La Rue 4-1-1, Ochowicz 4-1-1, Bauman 3-1-0, Nickel 3-1-1, Gilson 3-0-0, Schroll 3-0-1. Totals 29 8-4.

Judge to Consider Assailant's Waiver

Youth Held Without Charge After Slaying Woman, Wounding Son

OSHKOSH — Juvenile Judge James G. Sarres today is considering whether to waive jurisdiction to county court in a case involving Kenneth Wayne Dobberstein, 17, route 1, Winnebago, in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Russell Schmude, 46, and the wounding of her son, Neil, 13, Wednesday evening.

Dobberstein is being held in the Winnebago County jail as a juvenile delinquent and no charge has been placed against him.

Petition was filed Thursday with Judge Sarres by District Attorney Jack D. Steinhilber asking detention of Dobberstein and a waiver of juvenile court proceedings. The waiver was asked so that Dobberstein can be charged in criminal court with the slaying of Mrs. Schmude, also of route 1, Winnebago.

Judge Sarres has named Attorney William E. Crane, Oshkosh, as guardian ad litem for Dobberstein.

May Ask Hearing Court officials thought it possible that Judge Sarres may seek a hearing on the matter before waiving his jurisdiction, should he choose to waive jurisdiction.

Mrs. Schmude was fatally wounded Wednesday evening and her son, Neil, wounded by shotgun blasts allegedly fired by Dobberstein; who had hid in the bathroom of the Schmude house until Mrs. Schmude and her son returned from a cancer drive solicitation among the neighbors. Before she died, while en route to Mercy Hospital at Oshkosh, she told her son, other neighbors, who had come to the house, and Winnebago County police that Dobberstein had shot her.

Threw Gun Away

Dobberstein was captured by Winnebago County police at 6:45 a.m. Thursday after an all-night search of the western and northern parts of Winnebago County. He gave himself up without a struggle when spotted in a clump of weeds west of Winnebago and took county police to a spot near Larsen where he had thrown the sawed off shotgun allegedly used in the murder.

The Dobberstein and the Schmude farms are within a quarter mile of each other along County Trunk D and K in the Town of Poygan.

Budgetary Control System Outlined to Outagamie Board

Plan Has Four Major Steps in Preparation, Woehler States

Outagamie County Business Administrator Alvin Woehler Thursday gave the county board a simplified explanation of its new budgetary control system.

Woehler said "it's merely a plan of operation expressed in dollars and cents."

He explained that the new system has four major steps in budget preparation:

- Budget calendar, how to perform the mechanics of preparing the budget, how to determine the amount of an appropriation to be request, and budget approval by the county board.

In budget administration, Woehler said, a new accounting form and system is being used which will prevent departments and committees from spending unallocated funds.

Shows Balance

The new system shows the unexpended balance in each account for each department, each individual expenditure and the total amount spent.

"In the future," Woehler said, "departments and committees must accurately estimate their expenditures."

"We're not going to shut anyone down if they expend all their funds," he added, "but they will have to have a good reason for requesting additional monies."

"And if some department has surplus funds available in one category the department head must request the executive committee to transfer funds to another category."

"We are operating on a different system," Woehler said, "which puts Outagamie ahead of all the other counties in the state."

He also pointed out that he and the executive committee are working on a plan to establish a fixed contingency fund. "We'll be reasonably tolerant this year," Woehler said, "but we'll become objective about expenditure out of this category in 1965."

He explained that the new system is working so well that the county is not posted for the month of April. Woehler said for the first time in history, books in the courthouse check out penny-to-penny with books of the county institutions — the general hospital and the tuberculosis sanatorium.

School Status

Supv. Wilmer Struebing, Brillion, explained to the county board the course of action which is being taken in respect to the office of county superintendent of schools.

Struebing, who is also county assemblyman, told the supervisors there were two alternatives. One was to combine with other counties on a joint supervisory basis to cut down expenses.

The other would be to set the salary to correspond with responsibility carried by the office. This alternative would ultimately abolish the office, he said.

Bill Defeated

The explanation came after Supv. Mike Kloeppel, Woodville, asked what course of action could be taken by the education committee.

A bill introduced to the state legislature by Struebing to abolish the office was defeated. Presently, he said, there is a bill before the legislature that would give the county power to take either of the alternatives he listed.

Any action taken by the legislature on this matter will be reported to the education committee, Struebing said.

Outagamie May Set Up New Executive Unit

Would Include Members of Other County Committees

Outagamie County may get a new executive committee made up of members of each of the county board's 10 standing committees.

Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer, Kimberly, explained Thursday that a new 11-man committee whose structure was set up Wednesday will probably replace the existing executive committee which is made up of four elected board members and the board chairman.

The committee, formed Wednesday, has the initial responsibility of meeting with J. L. Jacobs and Co., Chicago, consultants who will conduct an efficiency study of administrative practices in the county.

The committee, Fulcer said, which does not now have a label, will become a policy-making group. Because of its responsibilities to each department and its over-all makeup will be such that it should replace the existing executive committee.

As it was approved Wednesday, the proposal sets up a committee made up of representatives from each regular committee of the county board. Each committee will elect its own representative to serve on the 11-man committee. The 11th man will be Fulcer.

"This," Fulcer explained, "will be one of the initial steps we take toward achieving efficiency in county board government."

He explained the committee's makeup will include direct representation with each department of county government, something new to the county on the committee level.

CLINTONVILLE — Mayor Frank A. Sinkewicz has proclaimed Saturday "E. A. Hutchinson Day," honoring the high school vocational agriculture instructor who will retire at the end of the current school year.

A testimonial banquet is set Saturday night at the school. Hutchinson has spent 45 years teaching agriculture, the past 40 years here.

Facility for Fox Cities Area Is Objective of Study Group; 5 Boards Have Representation

A joint committee to develop a proposal for vocational school serving the Fox Cities area was set up by the five Fox Cities boards of vocational and adult education Wednesday.

The decision concluded a four-hour joint meeting of the five boards and C. L. Greiber, state director of vocational and adult education. It was called by the Appleton board to discuss the need and possibilities for area development.

The committee, to be made up of the five directors and one member from each board, is to study and develop general principles for an area school and propose a plan for the school. It is to report in about a month.

George Howden, president of the Appleton board, was named temporary chairman of the committee until it convenes.

Area Designated

The Fox Cities area, designated in the state board of vocational and adult education's area plan for vocational school development, includes Outagamie and Waupaca counties, the western half of Calumet County and the northern half of the portion of Winnebago County between Oshkosh and Neenah.

Greiber told the boards, "You are going to have to do some planning in this area regarding what vocational and technical education shall be in 1970."

The state director outlined the need for area development to provide post-high school vocational and technical education throughout the state. "The recognized need for vocational and technical education in the nation and state is exploding," he said.

The state board has approved an area plan under which 20 schools, including Appleton, have been designated as area centers. In working out this plan, Greiber said he had found

Calumet County Sets Sabin Vaccine Dates

20,000 Expected to Receive Type 1 Oral Drops at Clinics Sunday

CHILTON—20,000 people are expected to receive Sabin oral polio vaccine during administration at five centers throughout the county May 3.

Members of the county medical society are working on final details for the first clinics and the follow up clinics June 7.

Administration centers for the vaccine are gymnasia of Chilton, Hilbert, New Holstein, Brillion and Stockbridge high schools.

Two Types

Medical society members have stated that both doses are vital to assure maximum protection. The first dose is Type I and the second will be combination of Type II and III.

The Sabin on Sunday (SOS) will be administered from noon to 4 p.m. Officials believed the four hours would be adequate to serve the population of the county.

Officials explained taking the vaccine is fast and simple. Two drops of the vaccine are placed on a lump of sugar to be consumed by adults and children. An eyedropper will be used to give the vaccine to infants directly.

Volunteer Help

Many organizations and groups have volunteered their services during the administration of the vaccine. Participation will be Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and various women's auxiliary organizations. Traffic will be handled by county police and civil defense auxiliary police.

The vaccine will be stored at Calumet Memorial Hospital until administration.

No "make up" clinics have been scheduled, officials said.

A 25 cent charge will be made for the administration of the vaccine.

Teachers Return Signed Contracts

However, More Persons Needed To Fill Faculty at Waupaca

WAUPACA — All teachers who were issued contracts for the 1964-65 school year returned them signed, George Hendrickson, superintendent, told the Waupaca School Board Tuesday night.

Hendrickson said it was the first time he could recall when all contracts offered were returned signed.

The board, however, needs several more teachers to fill the faculty. A high school English teacher is needed to replace Gerald Kissinger, who resigned, and another to replace Miss Irene Cleaves, who also resigned. Miss Cleaves taught English, French and Latin.

Hendrickson announced there will be five kindergarten classes next year, and Mrs. Donald Damrau will continue as part-time kindergarten teacher. Mrs. Duncan Campbell Jr., was hired to teach high school English.

Washington Trip

The board tentatively approved a plan to make the student trip to Washington, D.C., an annual event instead of once every two years. However, students who went this year will not be able to go again next year. The trip is offered to juniors and seniors who pay their own way.

Hendrickson and Clarence Riddle, high school principal, who with their wives were chaperones for the Washington trip this year, said the size of the group shows it would be better to offer the trip annually, since juniors who didn't make the trip may want to go as seniors. Next year's trip will be April 13 to 17.

Results of the school board election were canvassed. The total votes are as follows: Raymond Martin, 1,536; Mrs. Ward Fonstad, 1,430; Mrs. Foster Dille, 1,323, and Ward Fox, 1,119.

More College Coordination Needed

For several years Wisconsin residents interested in higher education have discussed the idea of a junior college system to provide both a two year terminal education beyond the high school and a more advanced vocational and technical program. It is time once again to look at the proposal.

Last fall the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education wisely suggested and adopted a plan for 20 area vocational schools around the state. Such schools would be able to offer wider and more efficient programs of vocational and technical training than today's many small vocational schools. Current discussions among the boards of five Fox Cities vocational schools have arisen from the state action.

But at the same time that these schools are being proposed and probably soon will be built, both the University of Wisconsin and the state colleges are investigating requests and needs for branch campuses and more extension centers. There is an unnecessary element of competition in some of the plans based more upon emotional allegiance to one or the other system than upon the needs of various communities. And the question that arises is whether or not there could be more coordination among all the higher educational programs to avoid duplications in buildings and courses.

The State Board of Vocational and Adult Education is now represented on the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education as are the regents of the university and the state colleges. And it is on the Coordinating Committee where another look should be taken at the junior college idea.

There are several types of education beyond the high school needed and provided to a considerable extent in Wisconsin. The traditional four year bachelor of science or liberal art programs, pre-professional instruction, teacher training and various graduate programs are all available. So also are vocational and technical instruction. But junior college systems, such as the large one in California, offer a two year terminal program as well. And often this is combined with the technical, vocational and first two years of an academic college program.

Vocational schools, originally conceived for the high school age student to take the place of a high school academic program, now serve the high school graduate. A recent report adopted by the state college regents pointed to the increased need of expanded vocational and technical post high school institutions "consonant with the expansion of science and technology." Instead of separate vocational and technical schools "would it not make more sense to combine the so-called branch campuses or extension centers in areas where they could serve almost all the young people of the state? We do not know the exact courses of study in all vocational and technical programs but surely there is some amount of duplication in a well-conceived course with those offered at institutions preparing students for more college.

A member of the Coordinating Committee proposed a third board of regents to take charge of all community colleges so as to end the ridiculous competition growing between the university and state colleges for authority. Perhaps this is a reasonable temporary solution. But in the long run a strong Coordinating Committee for Higher Education—or what in essence would be one board of education for higher institutions of learning—is the real answer. Education today costs too much for us to ignore the most efficient possible operations as well as those which will provide the best educational opportunities for all Wisconsin residents who seek higher education.

Problems of Succession

The problems of succession to the top role in a nation have been emphasized recently in two major countries of the world. The United States, which went through such a crisis only last November, especially serious because an assassination was involved, is shown in a far more stable situation than either France or the Soviet Union.

The false rumor of Khrushchev's death sent a tremor through the free world as well as the Communist one. Despite our firm opposition to Khrushchev, we are willing to concede that another Communist in his position might be considerably worse. There could be another Josef Stalin. Khrushchev apparently wants to bury the free world through infiltration, subversion and even competition on the grounds that all out nuclear war is too great a risk. When confronted with such a threat in Cuba, he backed down.

But a Communist like Mao Tse-Tung, Chou En Lai or Russian First Deputy Premier Koslov and some of the top Russian military leaders might not be quite as nimble in retreating as was Khrushchev in Cuba. They might be less convinced of the free world's will to resist.

In case of the death of Khrushchev, there will probably be another power struggle lasting some time as there was when Stalin died—or was murdered. Khrushchev has indicated three moderates he would like to see in positions of authority but there is no guarantee in the Soviet Union that they will be able to rise to such positions.

Thailand Explains 'Neutrality'

French and United States delegates to the meeting of the Southeast Asian Treaty Organization in Saigon reportedly were going to play down their differences of opinion over what should be done to save Southeast Asia from communism or a long, drawn out war of attrition. But the Foreign Minister of Thailand, Thanat Kohman, refused to soft pedal the dispute.

Neutrality of South Viet Nam, the French suggestion several weeks ago, "would be tantamount to delivering that country with hands and feet bound to its northern aggressors," said Thanat. He further implied that if France didn't want to offer constructive ways of repelling the Reds, it ought to withdraw from SEATO.

The strong words are an echo of another SEATO meeting some years ago when both Britain and France refused to agree to a SEATO force to throw the Communists out of Laos. Despite the opposition of Indonesia, the plan might have been feasible at the time. Certainly the lack of cohesion among the members was an encouragement to the Communists who continued to probe for soft spots to strike—and who so far have continued to find them.

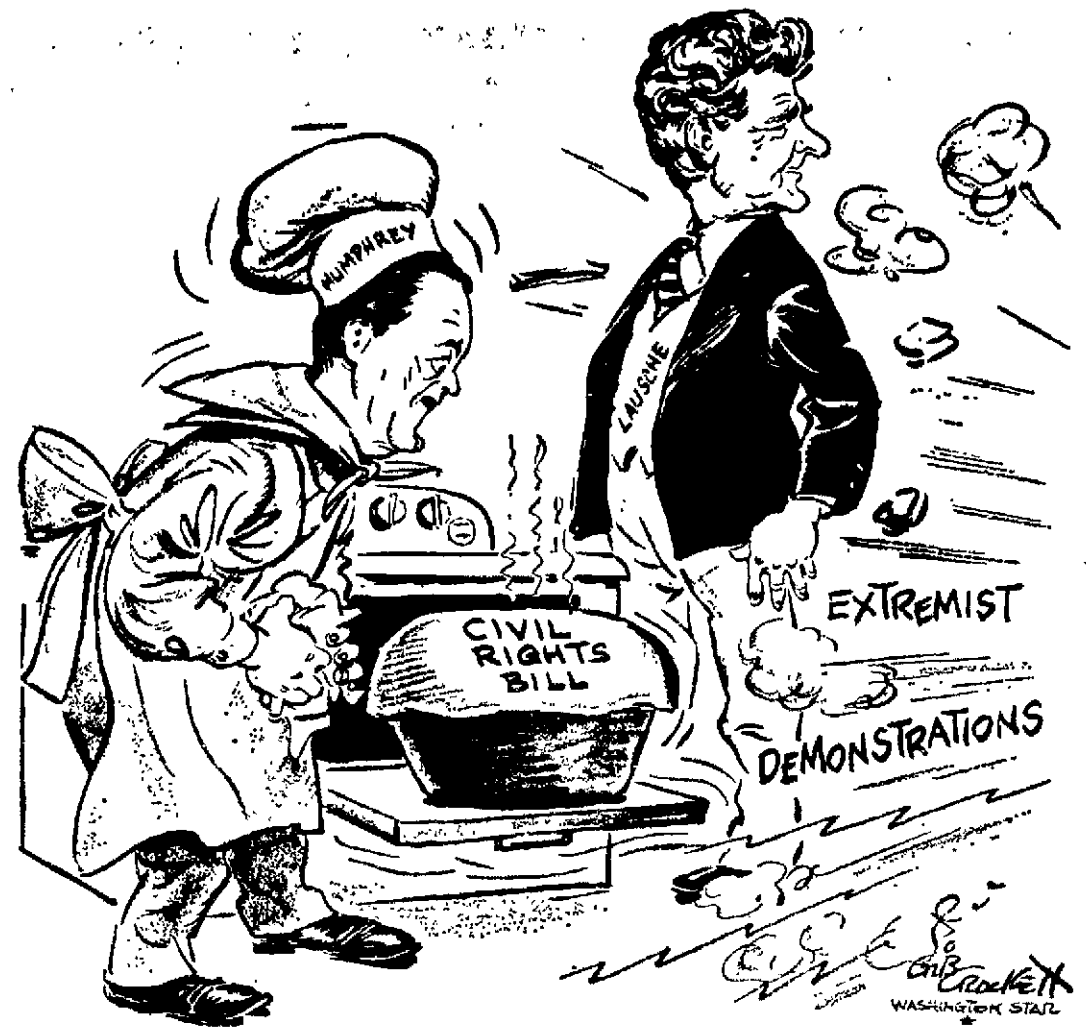

Sec. of State Dean Rusk firmly backed the premier of South Viet Nam, Gen. Khanh, but the talk of French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville, sounded amazingly like that of Sen. Fulbright. SEATO should "do away with myths, eliminate ambiguities and squarely face realities," said De Murville. And meanwhile U. S. Ambassador to South Viet Nam, Henry Cabot Lodge, was being quoted that "the Communists in Southeast Asia cannot be trusted to carry out a neutralization treaty . . . if so-called 'neutrality' had been applied to France at any time between 1940 and 1944, the German army would have remained in occupation in France."

Mr. Lodge's comment is worth a discussion. He is quite right in suspecting that neutrality would be merely a foot in the door for Communists. And the reference to France, in its dark days of resistance, is apt. But he knows full well that it was not merely the work of the French underground, effective as it may have been, which drove the German army from French soil. It was all-out war on the part of the Allies, including some rather indiscriminate bombing of German cities. It is such a war which the United States most definitely wishes to avoid in Asia or anywhere.

But the comment also emphasizes that to have a limited war, the limitation must be in both directions. If South Viet Nam could be separated from the north, it is quite likely that Gen. Khanh could readily take care of the Viet Cong and so could have President Diem. But since there has been no success—or even much effort—in isolating the south, there seems little alternative to bringing the war to the north in more than what are becoming almost daily threats from Washington. Mr. Lodge and the French officials are in agreement that the United States must continue to give assistance to the armed forces in the south.

The insistence of the foreign minister of Thailand in bringing the dispute out in the open—and his firmness in describing the dangers from the Communist north—should be noted. Unless Gen. Khanh begins to have some real victories—and it begins to appear that this means more U.S. aid in pushing the fracas into the north—there are not going to be grounds for any real negotiations toward any sort of a political solution of the French or the American variety.

Allen-Scott Report

More and Bigger Agreements With Soviet Union in Works

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

Those fanfare U.S. and Russian reductions in fissionable material for nuclear weapons are just the beginning; more and even bigger agreements are in the works.

Some of these potential accords are quite imminent—barring last-minute upsets.

Ambassador Foy Kohler took with him a large portfolio of these new proposals when he returned to Moscow from his recent consultations in Washington. And President Johnson and Ambassador Dobrynin reviewed them in their long White House discussion last weekend.

IN IMMEDIATE FUTURE

—Opening of additional consulates in the two countries—initiated by President Kennedy, but aborted several times by cold war crises.

—Moscow - New York air route - another Kennedy plan that has been on and off for several years.

—Sale of upwards of $500 million of surplus farm commodities over a period of three or more years. The Soviet is definitely interested in such purchases despite outward indifference.

—Long-term credits for the sale of so-called non-strategic goods. These would include chemical, fertilizer and plastic plants which the Reds urgently desire under the multi-billion dollar agricultural expansion program proclaimed by Khrushchev.

LONG RANGE

—Formal or informal agreement not to distribute nuclear weapons and materiel to other nations—including Red China and France.

—Joint cutback in troops by the U.S. in Europe and the Soviet in the satellites.

—Destruction of the Berlin Wall in exchange for placing West Berlin and Allied access routes under United Nations control.

—Neutralization of South Viet Nam in return for the supervised withdrawal of Viet Cong forces.

WHAT'S BEHIND IT

Basis of this "grand design," as it's being pretentiously described by State Department insiders, are policies formulated and actively pursued by President Kennedy and his key foreign affairs lieutenants—who are equally influential in President Johnson's inner councils.

It was this powerful group, spearheaded by Dr. Walt Rostow, head of the State Department's Policy Planning Council, that drafted the controlling "position paper" on U.S.-Soviet relations—which is still in final effect.

This basic policy concept, predicated on the principle that the "U.S., to the extent possible in the existing climate, should grant to the USSR the position its status as a great power warrants," has been wholly accepted by President Johnson and is being vigorously pressed by him.

For that purpose, this momentous "position paper" enunciates a number of primary measures, foremost among them the following:

"The U.S. should hold out, by word and deed, the prospect of fuller Soviet participation and influence in the community of free nations if and as the Soviet leaders show a genuine interest and will for such constructive participation.

"U.S. officials should press for cooperative ventures in such fields as outer space, public health, uses of atomic energy, air travel, and cultural exchanges.

"The President should seek to avoid formal summit negotiations of the 1955 and 1960 variety, except where needed business cannot otherwise be transacted. . . . One such case may be where the full authority of the head of government is needed to halt a chain of military action and counteraction leading to war.

"The President should develop informal contacts and exchanges with top Soviet leadership which would—unlike more formal summit meetings—be viewed more as a forum for communication than negotiation.

"Our long-term purpose toward the Soviet is to increase the chance of constructive evolution within that society which might eventually move it to participate in the community of free nations."

In meetings of the National Security Council and in private talks with top State Department and Pentagon leaders, President Johnson has expressed full accord with these underlying tenets and aims, and declared his determined intention to put them into effect.

Looking Backward

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Motor for April 21, 1864.

The opposition papers are industriously circulating a story that Mr. Lincoln sent Mrs. Todd White, a sister of Mrs. Lincoln, back to her home in Richmond with an order to Gen. Butler at Fortress Monroe to pass her and her baggage through without examination, and that the order was obeyed.

We have no hesitation in pronouncing this story an out and out falsehood. It is wholly unlike Mr. Lincoln to give such an order and as unlike Gen. Butler to obey it.

These same papers were, a short time since, circulating the vilest slanders against the female teachers of the South, who are generously giving their time and best energies to the noble purpose of teaching the blacks and fitting them for liberty.

When these slanders were proven utterly false, very few of these same papers had the manliness to retract the lie.

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Edward Lutz was appointed to the Appleton Board of Education to replace the late R. F. McGillan. She was the only woman member of the board and also the only representative from Appleton's south side.

Mandatory Inspection Of Autos No Solution For Accident Problem

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON—As regularly as the pigeons which roost around the Capitol produce new broods, there is talk about compulsory motor vehicle inspection whenever anybody puts together a package of bills on the problem of highway safety.

Currently Gov. Reynolds is talking about the wisdom of a law requiring every motor vehicle owner to submit his vehicle to an official inspection periodically as a contribution to safe driving on the public roads, in conjunction with his own recommendations for reducing the doleful highway fatality record.

But the prospects are no better for the bill today than on the dozen or so previous occasions of its introduction into the legislature under a variety of sponsors' names. One suspects that the reason for the repeated failure of the idea is that it is too pat and that it doesn't stand up under examination as likely to produce results corresponding with the enormous costs and inconvenience involved.

THE FACTORS

Statistical documentation of the highway killing phenomenon is not yet as reliable as workers in the field desire. The gaps in the statistical record, parenthetically, have led to suggestions for a formal University of Wisconsin highway safety research center.

But such evidence as is available indicates that while mechanical failure is indubitably a factor in highway accidents, it is not the major factor, nor even one of the principal factors. It is true that voluntary checks undertaken periodically show that up to a third of the vehicles examined show some mechanical deficiency—including those that may not be directly related to traffic accidents.

But studies of actual accidents including fatality reports do not list mechanical defects as the most serious of the ingredients of the worsening record of loss of life, limb and property on the public roads.

Perhaps more influential in creating doubts about the efficacy of an inspection law is the difficulty of achieving such a program.

A program of state inspection stations would be so costly as to discourage any legislature from seriously entertaining the proposition. Hundreds of such stations would be required at a minimum.

An alternative system of requiring motorists to submit their vehicles for inspection at private garages and stations, for a fee, would inevitably raise questions about the possibility of abuses for commercial reasons. It would be the equivalent of handing over to the tradesmen a captive list of hundreds of customers each. Such doubts have not been mitigated by the history of the inspection bills, which usually bring cheers and ardent lobbying from trade associations which otherwise have shown very little interest or concern in the highway safety problem as a community challenge.

REMEDIES

The highway safety problem could be reduced, if not solved, if the men in power really resolved to do so. There is nothing very mysterious about it. But there are political hazards, real and imaginary.

The problem is one of human failure. Stronger enforcement and harsher penalties would help, as everybody who has ever reflected about it is likely to acknowledge. But such remedies might not be popular and the politicians shrink from them. Driving while drunk, reckless driving, speeding, driver cussedness in general, are the targets, and if they can be solved or reduced, accidents can be lessened and lives saved.

Once a journalist friend visiting in Madison called for a taxi after a night on the town. His hosts, knowing that he had arrived in his automobile, inquired why he wanted a cab. In his home county in another state, he explained, there was an ordinance calling for an automatic mandatory 30-day sentence in the workhouse for the offense of driving under the influence. The Wisconsin legislature might start there.

Strictly Personal

It Takes Effort Not To be Self-Centered

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Everyone is at the center of his own universe, like a spider sitting at the heart of his web. This is the condition of man, to be self-centered, in the most literal sense of the word.

And when we engage ourselves with another person, our own existence seems necessary and absolute, while the other's existence seems contingent and relative. We are essential to our world; he is not.

Yet, while this is our deep emotional conviction, on the intellectual level, we know it is not true. The other person is as real as we are. He, too, is the center of the universe; he is necessary and absolute to himself.

Treating ourselves as absolute, and others as relative is, of course, the primal sin. It converts persons into things to be manipulated, used and discarded; into means for our own ends, not for their ends. In Buber's terms, it turns a Thou into an It.

And when a Thou becomes an It—when the createdness of the other person is not viewed as necessary as our own—then there is no reason (beyond expediency) to treat the other as a person. All injustice and cruelty come, basically, from this distorted view of reality.

Seen in this light, the great commandment "Love thy neighbor as thyself," becomes something more than a sentimental injunction or a pious wish or even a purely religious precept. It becomes an imperative for mankind—a self-protective measure to keep us from wiping out one another, as we seem about to do on a global scale today.

The great commandment means that our neighbor, however he differs from us, is just as real, just as worthy and as worthless, just as much the center of creation. It means that the only way we can like some people is by loving them—by loving not the accidents of their personality, but the essential createdness of them, the residual humanity that makes us all much more alike than we are different.

The kind of love we are commanded to have is not a feeling, in the ordinary sense of the word. Nobody could be "commanded" to love his neighbor as he loves his mate or parents or children or friends. It is an act of the will, a turning of the whole person to the other, in open recognition that what unites us is much greater and deeper than what divides us.

Man will never lose his self-centeredness. He can only mitigate it, by accepting the reality of the other, and regarding him as an absolute. In the crisis of our times, the I can save itself only by reaching out to the Thou and saying "We."

training School and Johnson chatted individually with students on their problems.

"I'm mighty proud of what you are trying to do to help yourself and your family," Johnson said after a brief talk with one man.

Johnson made a brief general talk, saying: "I just want to tell all of you how proud we are of what you're doing to help yourselves. It's unfortunate that we have this unemployment problem. Mrs. Johnson and I came out to see you and see how you're getting along and what we can do to help. We're here because we care."

Lawmakers Present

Most of the vocational trainees to whom the President talked were unemployed former workers at Studebaker Corp., which ended automobile production here late last year and moved its car-making operation to Hamilton, Ont.

The President and his wife were accompanied on their tour through the school, a former high school still operated by the city school system, by both Indiana senators — Democrats Vance Hartke and Birch E. Bayh Jr.—and Rep. John Brademas, South Bend Democrat.

Greeted by Governor

Johnson was greeted by Gov. Matthew E. Welsh, Mayor Lloyd M. Allen and other state and local dignitaries. Hartke, Bayh and Brademas flew in with the President from Chicago. The party also included Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges and Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Thursday night, in Chicago, Johnson was saluted at a $100-a-plate dinner by an estimated 6,000 of the Democratic faithful. The President, who has said he'll tone down partisan talk at pre-convention political gatherings, forgot himself long enough to add some resounding flourishes to his prepared remarks at the dinner.

Predicts Victory

Come November, Johnson predicted, the voters will bestow "decisive victory at all levels for the party of all the people."

Grinning, Johnson said he had read in a Chicago newspaper that his first presidential foray into the Midwest was taking him into "Goldwater country."

"This is Democratic country," said the President. "It is Democratic tonight and it is going to be Democratic country next November."

Curl Rights Pickets

He said that if the party helps build "a great society of the highest order we do not have to worry about success at the polls."

Wherever Johnson went in Chicago, crowds with Democratic-financed placards waited in the chill. Time and again, the President stepped into crowds for handshaking.

About the only non-cheers in view were a small group of civil rights pickets who paraded behind police barricades outside McCormick Place, site of the Democratic party dinner. Driving past, Johnson got only a glimpse of the banner-carrying marchers.

Fireworks Display

Much noisier was the carefully timed fireworks display that erupted along the lakefront as Johnson left the hall. With rockets bursting aloft, the presidential limousine slowed to a crawl so Johnson could see earthbound displays — a fiery American flag, a Texas hat and a portrait of the President.

Johnson's tour of distressed areas was announced only Thursday, and the final schedule was not nailed down until early today. It embraced a hectic round of helicopter and jet flights, speeches and conferences.

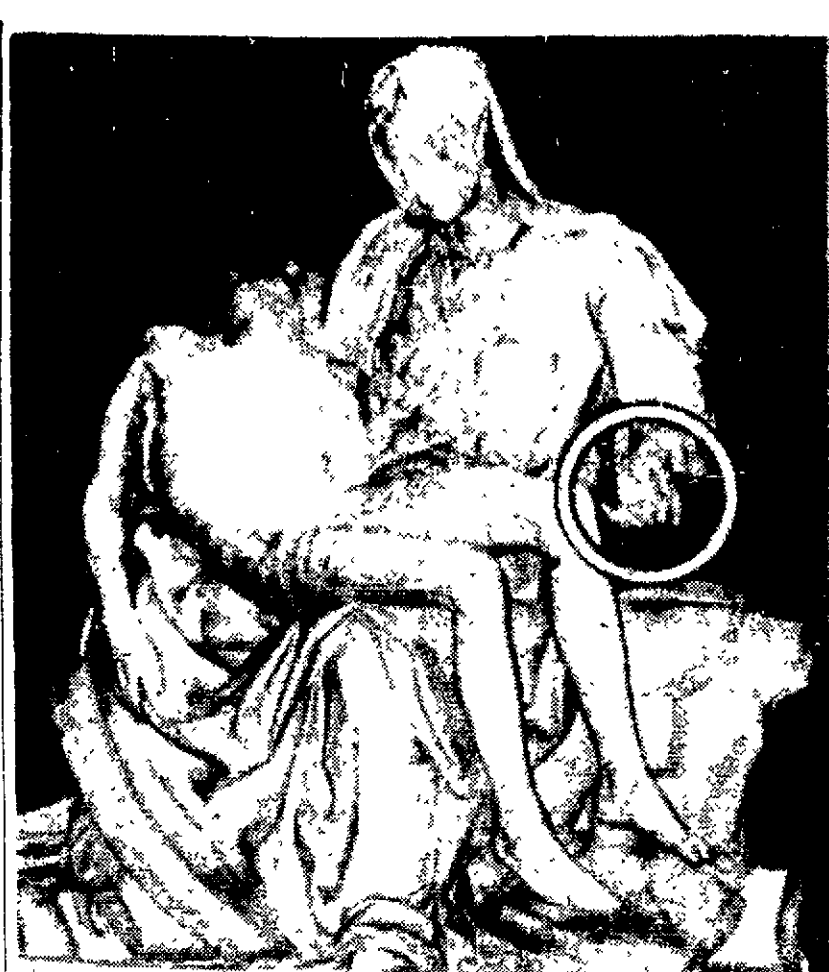

Invited to meet with the President at Huntington late in the day were the governors of West Virginia, Maryland, Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia and Pennsylvania.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Mrs. Elmer Einum of Rice Lake is the new president of the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs.

The organization closed its annual three day convention Thursday night with a banquet honoring Samuel Durns, the retiring chairman of the University of Wisconsin School of Music.

Other officers are Mrs. Carl T. Wilson of Glendale, first vice president; Miss Alice Walter, Burlington, second vice president; Mrs. Alfred J. Bowen, Roscoe, Ill., third vice president; Mrs. Elmer W. Schneider, Kenosha, secretary, and Mrs. Neison Hogan, Beloit, treasurer.

were also declassified last year and were made available to scholars through the Library of Congress. They are still being translated.

In connection with Hughes' report that special studies had been made on them, The Associated Press obtained from the State Department two studies—one by Ralph L. Powell of American University and one by John Wilson Lewis of Cornell University. Both men are experts on Communist Chinese affairs.

In their separate reports to the State Department both developed the theory of crises in the Chinese Communist leadership in some detail.

Powell expressed the view that though at some moment of future crisis the military in China might have the possibility of seizing power for itself, such a development was unlikely and without precedent in the Communist movement. The military will more likely play "the role of kingmakers," he said.

He advanced the thesis that

Ma Tse-tung, who is 70, "will be replaced by death or retirement within less than a decade."

Leaders Aging

"But the whole top leadership of the party is an aging group," he said. "In 10 years even the surviving alternate members of the present (Communist party) central committee will average about 65 years. Thus during the next decade or a slightly longer period, the party and the regime will face not one, but two crises of leadership—the death of Mao and the death of his successor."

Lewis related this situation to "tensions" between the present aging leadership in China and the younger generation of party members whose differing views on policy have been suppressed under the present rules. Lewis estimated that "a group fully identified with the revolutionary elite and its strategies and techniques could carry on, for at least another 10 to 15 years."

given to a number of measures by the senators. Included was a bill setting a $10,000 limit on the county cost of financing the trial of indigent defendants. Any amount over $10,000 would come from state funds.

Another Assembly bill passed and sent to the governor would raise the maximum allowable width of farm machinery using public roads to 12 feet. The limit is now nine feet.

The Senate approved a bill which would drop the point at which a taxpayer incurs a state income tax liability from $600 to $500 in annual earnings.

Autumn Program

In listing the subjects to be considered when the lawmakers return in the fall, an accelerated highway construction program was placed sixth.

The governor called a special session in December to enact an accelerated highway construction plan, but the proposal was defeated soundly. The plan took another licking in an April 7 referendum in which voters were asked if they approved of raising gasoline taxes to help finance the project.

Court Action Awaited

Other items of business listed for action in November included legislative reapportionment. The resolution said the subject would be before the lawmakers again because of expected action by the State Supreme Court.

The high court had said it would take over and realign Senate and Assembly districts if the task was not completed through legislative processes by May 1.

The stage was set for the court to re-enter the case when the Senate failed to override Reynolds' veto Wednesday. However, a court redistricting would be intended only as a provisional measure to cover the current election year.

in the United States include Army ammunition depots in Nebraska and South Dakota, a naval auxiliary air station in Louisiana; Ft. Lawton at Seattle, Wash.; and four seaplane bases in Florida and Virginia.

The hardest-hit of the installations to be reduced is the Watertown arsenal near Boston. All that will remain there will be the Army Materials Research Agency.

Many of the other 13 installations ticketed for reduction will be all but eliminated.

In addition, a naval weapons industrial reserve plant at Decatur, Ill., and a high-energy fuel plant at Muskogee, Okla., will be put up for sale this summer.

Of the 10,056 reduction in civilian workers and military personnel from all 63 actions, about 6,400 will be in the United States. Most of the 3,600 "spaces" to be reduced overseas are military, the Pentagon said.

New Actions

McNamara said the new actions will, as in the past, be phased over periods up to 3½ years "to minimize the impact on employees and communities, as well as to reduce closeout and relocation costs."

All career workers whose jobs are eliminated will be offered other spots, the Defense Department said.

"Normal attrition in the work force will provide job opportunities for considerable numbers of those affected," it said.

By careful advance planning and extensive freezes on hiring at other installations, the Pentagon said, "additional job opportunities will be made available."

The department offered to pay moving expenses of any employee who must pull up stakes to take another job in a defense installation elsewhere.

And "to assure the widest opportunity for new jobs, the announcement said, displaced workers will be retrained for new skills at government expense.

Clash in Committee on Money for University

Chairman Accused of 'Kangaroo Court'

As Senators Talk of Communist Ideas

MADISON (AP)—Members of the Legislature's Joint Finance Committee clashed on kangaroo courts and Communist ideas Thursday before approving a bill to grant the University of Wisconsin $805,341.

The committee refused to approve for introduction into the waning spring meeting of the Legislature a bill to repeal sales taxes on telephone service.

The lawmakers cut nearly in half the university's request for $1.5 million to meet instructional costs for an unexpected 3,100 students.

The clash was sparked when Assemblyman Curtis McKay, R-Meqnon, insisted the committee should not approve even the $805,341 without additional study and moved the request be tabled.

Motion Shelved

Committee Chairman Sen. Walter Hollander, R-Rosendale, refused to entertain the motion, saying the request deserved prompt attention.

"Quote me a rule, Senator, that prevents us from tabling this," demanded an angry McKay, who finally moved that the bill be killed. The motion failed on a 10-3 vote.

On the recommendation for approval, McKay charged the committee members with "not knowing what you are voting on."

"You're interrupting a roll call," Hollander told McKay.

"Well you just get your sergeant of arms and have him throw me out," shouted McKay, "and unless you do that, just sit there and listen."

"Chip on Shoulder"

Assemblyman Bryon Wackett, R-Watertown, sided with McKay and accused Hollander of "running a kangaroo court."

On the 10-3 vote recommending passage, McKay and Wackett were joined by Sen. Alex Meunier, R-Sturgeon Bay, in voting against.

Meunier said he came to the meeting "with a chip on my shoulder."

"I'm not against a good university," he said, "but it's about time something is done about the Communist ideas that are going on around the university."

The bill to repeal sales taxes on residential and business telephone service was championed by Gov. John W. Reynolds. Assemblyman George Molinaro, D-Kenosha, attempted to get the committee's recommendation for it. The measure would reduce state revenues by $4 million.

It was rejected without discussion on a 9-4 vote.

Conference Told Population Shift Caused Problem

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A public health conference was told Thursday that a population shift has left rural areas of Wisconsin with the highest proportion of elderly people who need increased medical care.

Milo K. Swanton of Madison, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Council of Agriculture, said counties with high percentages of elderly residents were Adams, Marquette, Burnett, Waushara, Waupaca, Bayfield, Price and Trempealeau.

Swanton spoke at the joint annual meeting of the Wisconsin Public Health Association and the Middle States Branch of the American Public Health Association.

Dr. Ralph Ten Have of the University of Michigan's School of Public Health, told the groups it was the professional responsibility of their members to provide guidance and instruction on family planning.

Karl Mohr, deputy health commission in Green Bay, was named president-elect of the Wisconsin Public Health Association. L.A. Penn, of the Milwaukee health department, was elected vice president, and Paul W. Schuster, of La Crosse, who is a school health consultant with the State Board of Health, was elected secretary-treasurer.

Named directors were Miss Mary Cook of Beloit, Dr. Thorne Vogel of Janesville, and Mrs. Martha Kjentvel of Eau Claire.

Welfare Needs Better Image, Workers Told

'Let Public Know What You're Doing,' Conference Advised

SHAWANO — Public Welfare's need for a better image was stressed here Thursday at a meeting of the Eastern Wisconsin Welfare Association.

Welfare workers can help, they were advised, by letting the public in on what they are doing.

"Public welfare doesn't need slogans or salesmanship — it needs awareness and understanding," said Fred Hinckle, Madison, chief of public information for the State Department of Public Welfare.

Partly to blame is the trouble, he said, is that the public is separated from "But we must remember public welfare, and public welfare people are partly to blame."

"The problems we work with are not pretty," he conceded, and "most people would prefer to look the other way." also that until very recently, public welfare has been the private affair of the practitioner. People in the field effectively closed out the public, and widened the schism between themselves and the 97 per cent of the people whom they do not serve.

Defensive Attitudes Hinckle said welfare workers often assume a defensive attitude because of public criticism about welfare costs.

"But if the only communication of our needs to the board and the general public is in the form of a budget request, we can hardly expect them to have a sensitive understanding of our problem," he observed.

Hinckle stressed that it is not enough to appeal for the public's sympathy. The public should be told about welfare programs which "rehabilitate, and which prevent or inhibit the growth of problems."

'King Lear' Staged

Green Bay UW Play Tribute to Participants

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Sunday Editor

GREEN BAY—The massive tragedy of "King Lear" staged by the drama department of the Green Bay University of Wisconsin Center Thursday night not only was a most appropriate observance of the 400th birthday of the drama's author, but a wonderful salute to the ambition and industry of the center actors and their director Jack Frisch.

Manipulating the restricted facilities of his all-purpose room theater, Frisch staged the saddening spectacle of filial ingratitude and treachery as a smoothly moving whole which rose and fell as the intensity of emotion ebbed and flowed.

Perhaps the diction of his young actors—freshmen and sophomores in college—left much to be desired at times, but the important factors of unity and understanding were kept.

Fire Fighters Meeting to be in Oshkosh in June

OSHKOSH—Professional and volunteer firemen will meet here June 22 to 24 for the annual convention of the United Professional Fire Fighters of Wisconsin, the organization of volunteer firemen, the Wisconsin Paid Firemen's Association, and the ladies auxiliary of the association.

Gov. John Reynolds will address a joint meeting on Monday, June 22. Convention headquarters will be at the Raule Hotel. Sessions will be at the Vocational School gymnasium.

Host for the convention is Local 316 of the International Association of Fire Fighters. Albert Mauritz is general chairman and Marvin Gauger co-chairman. Plans call for a banquet on Tuesday night, June 23, at the YMCA and a dance that night at the Eagles Ballroom.

Two Hurt in Crash Near Weyauwega

WEYAUWEGA — Two men were injured about 8:30 a.m. today in a car-truck accident on County Trunk O at the White Lake Road intersection three miles north of here.

Taken to New London Community Hospital by Harrigan Ambulance were Harvey A. Schaefer, 41, Oconto, and Gordon A. Niemuth, 32, 113 Ann St., Weyauwega. Schaefer suffered cuts on the head and possibly a broken jaw. He also complained of a back injury. Niemuth suffered a severe back injury.

County police said the Schaefer car was traveling east on White Lake Road and Niemuth, who was driving a Weyauwega Cooperative dump truck pulling a fertilizer spreader, was traveling north. The two vehicles collided at the intersection.

Niemuth was thrown from the truck. The vehicle landed on its top and the car wound up atop the truck.

GSA Wants Federal Employees to Use Less Space at Work
WASHINGTON (AP)—If you notice federal employees inching their desks closer, the motive may be economy—not togetherness.
Bernard L. Boutin, head of the General Services Administration, the government's house-keeping agency, estimated Tuesday that "each square foot reduction GSA is able to accomplish in the average per-employee - square - foot - of - space-occupied produces an annual savings to the government in rental, maintenance, and operation cost approximating $1.5 million."
Boutin told the Senate-House Economic Committee that GSA succeeded last year in reducing the average from 150.3 to 146.8 square feet, saving $5 million.

Will Sell Factories to Hungary, but Hinders Allied Sales to Castro Cuba

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two stories on the same day may seem ironic to American allies and the Communist world but make sense to the Johnson administration.

This one Thursday: Undersecretary of State George Ball told U.S. allies that selling locomotives to Cuba (the French are reported considering it) "would have an even greater impact" in support of Fidel Castro than the recent sale of British buses.

And this one Thursday: The United States is seriously considering the sale of synthetic rubber plants to Communist Romania, authoritative sources reported.

American View

Why would it be wrong—from the American view—for an ally

Today in History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, April 24, the 115th day of 1964. There are 251 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1788, John Paul Jones captured the British sloop-of-war Drake off Belfast, Scotland.

On this date In 1704, the first American newspaper to publish for any length of time, the Boston News-Letter, was published by John Campbell with news and gossip he collected as postmaster.

In 1800, the Library of Congress was founded.

In 1898, war was declared between the United States and Spain.

In 1916, the Easter Rebellion broke out in Dublin, Ireland.

In 1941, mechanized divisions of the Nazi army were moving on Athens, Greece.

Ten years ago—A battalion of six atomic cannon was dispatched to West Germany to bolster American forces.

Five years ago—A mysterious force of about 80 armed men made a landing on the shores of Panama. The group was dispersed after a clash with Panamanian armed forces. Three of the invaders, who were captured, said the group was made up of Cubans acting under the orders of Fidel Castro, but Castro later denied this.

One year ago—The U.S. ambassador, Foy Kohler, and the British ambassador to Moscow suggested to Premier Khrushchev the issue of the number of test ban inspections be side-tracked temporarily in order to focus on the deadlocked Geneva disarmament negotiations.

This was the 20th annual commercial contest sponsored by Spencerian College for all state high school commercial students. There were 450 entrants with 52 schools participating.

Fashion Real Flowers Into Graceful 'Ballet Dancers'

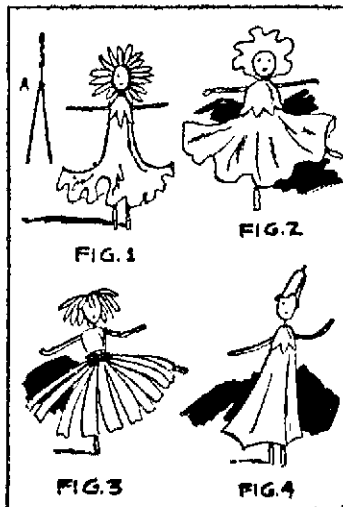

BY CAPPY DICK

If you have a Spring flower garden you can have fun making a set of ballet dancers like those in the adjoining picture. Their heads and dresses are flowers and their arms and legs are pipe cleaners — the silky, chenille cleaners, if you have them, although plain cotton ones will do.

To make the dancers stand erect, stick their pipe cleaner legs into a small piece of window screen wire. They may then be placed in a fish bowl (with water) for display. Shake the bowl and the dancers will move gracefully.

Petunia Doll

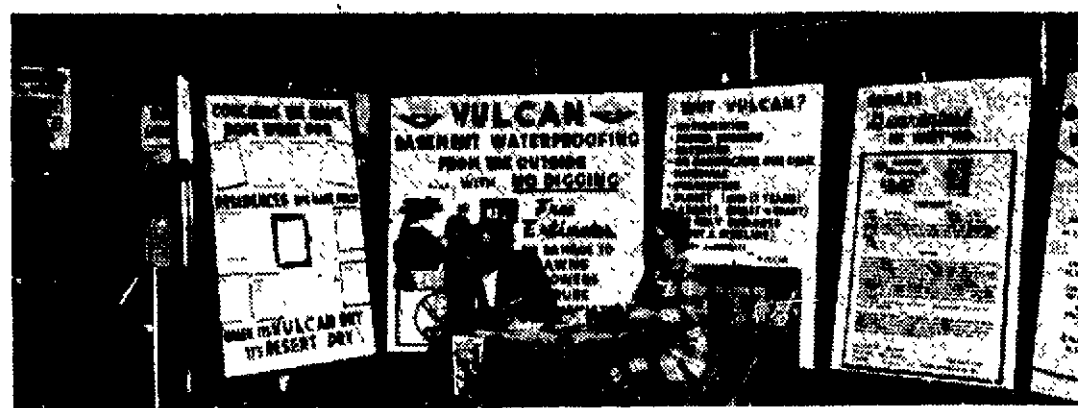

Try a petunia doll (Figure 1). Select a big, perfect petunia blossom. Leave a small piece of stem on it. Use thread to tie a daisy to the stem for the dancer's face and hair. The thick seed pod and sepals of the inverted petunia will form the doll's body. Through the seed pod thrust a piece of pipe cleaner for arms. Twist another cleaner to the shape shown in "A" of Figure 1 and place the twisted end inside the petunia. This completes the dancer. You have only to fit the ends of her legs into the window screen. Many other types of flowers may be used. Figure 2 is a dancer made from a hollyhock for skirt and body, a half-open hollyhock bud for her face and bonnet. A long pin fastens the head and body together. A very large daisy forms the skirt of the dancer in Figure 3 and a trumpet vine blossom will make the long skirt of the dancer in Figure 4.

VISIT VULCAN AT THE VF HOME SHOW. Shown above is the Vulcan Waterproofing booth open tonight and tomorrow until 9 p.m. at the Valley Fair Home Show. Graphically shown are details on how the unique Vulcan Method works to waterproof basements. Drop in and see how they can solve your damp basement problems.

A leaky basement used to be like the common cold; we all knew what it was, but no one knew how to really get rid of one.

The problem of colds is still with us, but thanks to Vulcan's curiosity, a way has been found to cure leaky basements.

For years, waterproofing materials such as tar were applied to underground exterior walls as a protection against water seepage. Even today, covering exterior walls with waterproofing materials is an essential part of construction, because architects and engineers also recognize the only way to stop serious water problems is to apply the water barrier on the outside walls.

In finished construction, that meant digging. And digging often meant ripping up a sidewalk or part of a driveway, having to move your flowers and shrubs or lose them, and having yards of dirt that often smothered lawns. And, if it rained, an already messy situation was made even more so, with extra and tiring cleanup.

Vulcan experts figured there must be a better way to waterproof. After years of research and experimentation, they originated the novel idea of pumping a water-resistant expandable mineral into the ground next to the basement walls.

That was 17 years ago. Today, the idea of sealing basement walls with the Vulcan method of pressure pumping has long since been patented and proven to be cleaner, faster, more economical and—the most reliable waterproofing method available. It is the largest nationwide waterproofing service in the country. They have served, among others, state and federal governmental bodies, institutions, industries and home owners throughout the country.

Our state has offices in Milwaukee, Madison, Antigo and Appleton. Frank Headson, formerly of Milwaukee, is starting

TAKE THE WORRY OUT OF HEATING by calling 9-1144, the number of the Jenkel Oil Company, distributors of Skelly Furnace Oil (With SK-12 Additive). Shown above is one of their modern fleet trucks that delivers Skelly Furnace Oil promptly and with convenient metered service. The customer receives a printed receipt from the meter on the truck to show accurate delivery of the purchase.

Even though the special additive SK-12 costs you nothing extra, it can keep your entire fuel system free of the harmful formation of rust, gum, sludge that cause most sudden furnace failures.

Since the fuel pipe in your furnace ends in an opening no bigger than a pin point, even a tiny particle of sludge or gum can clog your furnace burner. With SK-12, in Skelly Furnace oil, you can prevent most cases of sudden stoppage due to a clogged nozzle, filter screen or fuel line.

You can obtain Skelly Furnace Oil, with SK-12 additive, from the Jenkel Oil Co., 1201 N.

Badger Ave. Phone number of the firm is 9-1144. Emergency service—in case you run out of oil—may be obtained by calling 3-9584.

To Your Good Health Timing Important in Taking Some Medicine

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What factors determine whether medications should be taken before, during, or after meals?—T. C. M.

A sane, sensible question! It depends on the purpose of the medicine, sometimes on its irritating qualities (or "side effects"), and others.

Aspirin, for example, taken on an empty stomach can irritate the membranes of that organ to the point of bleeding. Not much, but a little. Taken with or after meals, it is less likely to do this. Aspirin is a good drug but it can have its bad points, so we guard against them. That's true of nearly any medicine.

Preparations designed to stimulate the appetite are taken before a meal. Those intended to aid digestion (such as dilute hydrochloric acid for some people, or digestive enzymes) are taken with a meal.

Hyperacidity Cases In cases of hyperacidity (excess acid in the stomach, a common problem with ulcers) a drug to neutralize acid is most effective when taken one or two hours after a meal, because the acidity is high then, but the stomach is nearly empty.

Drugs to reduce spasm in relation to eating are taken either before or after eating, and the choice depends on when the patient gets the best results. In some forms, penicillin, when taken by mouth, is more effectively absorbed on an empty stomach, or before a meal.

Timing Method Meals are used for the timing of medicines which should be spaced four to six hours apart. Thus "taken at mealtimes" or "three times a day" is no more than a convenient way of remembering when to take them. When a medication is pre-

Engle Denies He Will Withdraw As a Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., denied that he is withdrawing as a candidate for renomination.

Engle's office made public a telegram from Engle to State Assemblyman Thomas Carroll, co-chairman of Engle's campaign committee.

It said: "You can deny that I am withdrawing. I continue to remain a candidate for reelection to the United States Senate. Keep fighting. Best to you and all my workers and supporters."

The ailing senator's telegram followed publication of a copy-righted story in the Long Beach, Calif., Independent, quoting unnamed friends to the effect that Engle intends to withdraw from the race in a matter of hours or days.

ADDRESSING ENVELOPE

Dear Louise: I receive a lot of mail that contains self-addressed stamped envelopes for the answers. These letters come from many states and I often wonder if some of them reach their destinations. In many cases, the sender has placed the name and address so far up on the return envelope that a postal cancellation might almost obliterate the name. I am sure you would be doing a good turn to those who send such envelopes if you would describe how one should be addressed.

Louise Davis Answers: I'm glad you brought up this subject for I often have the same experience. I highly recommend a mailing sticker placed in center or below that on the envelope. Typed addresses are excellent too, and, except for numbers, everything including the state should be spelled out. It is advisable to avoid abbreviations to facilitate postal handling. The next best thing to typing addresses is hand-printing them, unless one's writing is easily legible.

WHICH FINGER FOR RING? Dear Louise: What is considered the third finger of the hand? I am confused and there has been much discussion about it. I am a widow and will be married soon and want to be sure just which finger gets the wedding ring.

Louise Davis Answers: The third finger is the one next to the small one on the end. The count begins with the index finger.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

How Old Is Your Skin?

A lovely writes: I just bought a magnifying mirror, and I rue the day. Until I looked in it I thought my skin was holding its own. Now I see it's aging faster than I am. There are lines and discolorations I never suspected. Is there any hope, or shall I wear a lace cap and go sit in grandma's rocker?

The answer: Wear the lace, but in a stunning hat. It would be good for your morale. And do sit in a rocker, for it would be relaxing. High morale and relaxed nerves are among the best antidotes for mature-skin problems.

Another good one is to keep looking in "that" magnifying mirror. Every woman should. Just so, skin problems are detected and can be treated before they become serious.

Possible developments are wider in scope than lines and brownish spots. The skin may become lax, sallow, thin and parchment dry. Sometimes difficulties stem from internal causes, such as the decline of circulation and glandular activity. Sometimes the external abuse of the skin accounts for deterioration.

Expert opinion has it that much aging is largely weathering — from sun and improper handling. When you put all the causes together, you get a good line on preventative and remedial treatments. In capsule, they add up to: Check with your doctor . . . Avoid sunburn, even tan . . . Take to the use of properly formulated moisturizers and emollients . . . Handle your skin with a feather touch, as you would a baby's. Yours is more easily destructible.

To firm and uplift sagging facial muscles and flesh, use my four-way method. It works wonders through corrective exercise, posture, skin care and make-up. Procedures are detailed in the leaflet, "Banish Crepey Throat and Chin." For your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing 10 cents and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope.

High Collars, Lower Hems On Fashion List of Soviets

BY HENRY S. BRADSHAW

MOSCOW (AP)—High collars, slightly longer skirts and no sleeves are decreed this summer for the fashionable Soviet woman by the government's House of Fashion.

Creations of Soviet designers were displayed at a fashion show today. Muted jazz and western ballads filtered from loudspeakers as the models paraded the runways.

"Skirts are a little longer," a woman announced purred. "In some cases they are simply flirting with the knees."

The ordinary Soviet woman, however, keeps her knees well hidden.

Most of the dresses had high collars. A few went deep enough to be mildly suggestive. Even the evening styles were hardly seductive.

Sleeveless tops are the thing for summer dresses. But for the chilly Russian spring, the style is a long-sleeve blouse under a sleeveless jumper.

Most of the jumpers hung full and loose. They suggested maternity clothes, but a spectator whispered that it was something called "the eased line" in the United States—the rage a while back.

Fur, comfortable in a Moscow winter, carried into spring clothes as trimming. Touches of fur even showed up on men's clothes.

Cuffless trousers, very short coats and overcoats high above the knees were prescribed for men. Some jackets lacked collars and lapels in cardigan style.

Altar Society Election Held

DARBOY — New officers elected Tuesday evening by the St. Anne Altar Society of Holy Angels Catholic Church are Mrs. Ronald Friebe, vice president, and Mrs. Robert Kilsdonk, secretary. Mrs. Leo Rooyackers advances from vice president to president. Mrs. George Schwalbach will be treasurer. New of-icers will be installed at the May meeting.

Mrs. Reynold Hopfensperger reported on the migrant workers.

Holy Angels will be host to the Outagamie Deanery Spring meeting Thursday. The society plans a bake sale May 9 at the Good Neighbor Fair at Valley Fair. The Society will sponsor the eighth grade graduation breakfast.

The Rev. William Rickert, pastor, spoke of the convent addition planned by the parish.

Mrs. Jerry Schaefer and her committee were hostesses.

Your Problems

Dog Wants Fish on Fridays; Questions Canine Reasoning

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This is a true story so help me.

Our next door neighbors, the Kellys, went to Europe for three weeks. They left their cocker spaniel, "Lucky" with us. The first week Lucky didn't eat much. He was lonesome for the Kellys. The second week his appetite perked up but then on Friday he wouldn't eat the pieces of left-over roast. He just drank his water.

The next day Lucky ate fine and continued to eat well all through the week. When Friday came around he turned his nose up at the hamburger and refused to touch it.

Jokingly, my husband said, "You know, that darned dog eats like the Kellys—no meat on Friday." We all laughed. Just for the heck of it I opened a can of sardines and put it down for Lucky. He cleaned up the tin.

Now, I ask you, Ann Landers, can a dog know when it is Friday? I wouldn't have believed it was possible, but I'm not so sure now. Comment, please.—Astonished.

Dear Astonished: Dogs do not know when it is Friday. Perhaps there is a logical explanation for this fascinating story but I don't know what it is. Maybe the Kellys will be able to come up with the answer when they get home.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our teen-age daughter just told us she is pregnant. She says the boy will not marry her. I don't believe she knows who the father of the child is. She wants to go to a home for unwed mothers and put the child up for adoption.

My husband and I want her to stay home and have the baby. If she doesn't want the baby after it is born, we would like to adopt it. The only thing that worries me is that I am in my middle fifties and not in the best of health. This daughter has made me terribly nervous. I'm not sure I have the patience and strength to take on the responsibilities of a newborn baby.

You seem to be able to see things so clearly, Ann. Will you kindly tell me what to do?—Just Heartsick

Dear Just Heartsick: Please, for the sake of everyone involved (particularly the unborn child) let your daughter make this decision.

In my opinion, it would be far better if the girl followed her plan. Your proposal could mean disaster for all of you.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My daughter was asked to be a bridesmaid at the wedding of a girl she does not know very well. If my daughter says "yes" this will be the seventh wedding in the past three years in which she was asked to take part. I know it is an honor, but it is also a heavy financial burden for middle-income people. Gwendolyn is in college, not a working girl, so you can see what the problems are.

Bridesmaids gowns, as you know, are selected by the bride and her mother. The girls have to pay for them whether they like them or not. Then there are shoes, headpieces, and gloves to buy. Only one out of the six gowns Gwendolyn has bought looked good enough to wear elsewhere.

I am writing to ask if you feel it would be a slap in the face to the girl if Gwendolyn refuses to serve unless she has a voice in the selection of the dresses. May we hear from you? — Irritated Mother

Dear Mother: Better Gwendolyn should say she is unable to serve—and be honest about the reason.

The bride and her mother do indeed (and should) select the bridesmaids' gowns. Gwendolyn would be way out of line if she asked for a voice in the selection.

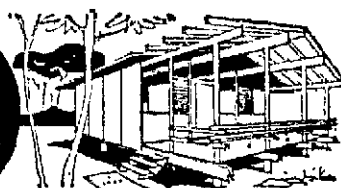

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1964)
